Roemer, Salfingere, Gibbs Win Sanitary Board Posts

Voters of central Contra Costa County Tuesday elected Irving C. Roemer, Frank W. Salfingere and Charles J. Gibbs directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District for the next four years.

Voting was light, with 2300 of 45,000 persons, or about five per cent, turning out.

Totals in the 12 consolidated precincts were: Roemer, 1380; Gibbs, 1358; Salfingere, 1143; Robert Pelusi, 738; John Connolly, 654; Ben Hartinger, 604; and Sherwood Knight, 341.

BOTH ROEMER and Salfingere were incumbents.

Upon election Roemer issued the following statement:

"I am of course pleased with the outcome of this election. I felt that, because of the very small percentage of voters which traditionally goes to the polls for elections of this kind, it would be an easy matter for anyone with an active campaign to be elected to fulfill duties with which he was entirely unfamiliar. It appears that I was wrong to the extent that the few who troubled to vote have proven to be the interested and informed.

"THERE IS a great deal to be done in the coming four years and it will lighten the burden to have the assistance of Frank Salfingere with whom I have worked for eight years. I also look forward to working with Charles Gibbs, whose qualifications appear to be those at least of an apt neophyte for this type of public service."

The Sun was unable to reach Frank Salfingere for his comments on the election.

Sitting on the board for the first time Thursday night will be Charles Gibbs, who offered the following remarks:

"MY THANKS to the men and women throughout the district who journeyed many miles to vote in this election, and persisted in finding the polling place, often after a fruitless visit to the familiar neighborhood rumormongers where they vote for senators, Presidents, etc.

"I am continuing a study of the district reports, minutes and other documents to further learn the needs and problems of the area and to prepare to work with the other directors toward fair and economical solutions."

Gibbs, of Orinda, is a mechanical engineer employed by Standard of California; Roemer lives in Lafayette and is an attorney with offices in San Francisco; Salfingere is a retired military officer and an engineer with the County Public Works Department. He is a Pleasant Hill resident.

VOTING in the precincts was as follows: Precinct 1—Roemer, 30; Salfingere, 31; Gibbs, 26; Hartinger, 10; Knight, 11; Pelusi, 11; Connolly, 21.

Precinct 2—Roemer, 129; Salfingere, 147; Gibbs, 101; Hartinger, 149; Knight, 36; Pelusi, 84; Connolly, 54.

Man's Best Friend in the Winter Is--The Doctor!

By CONNIE PIKE

We never see the doctor in the summertime. From May through August doctors are out of season for us, like oysters. It makes you wonder what they do with themselves when everybody stays healthy, how they spend their leisure.

A friend of ours pointed out her doctor at a swimming pool the other day. He was lying on a lounge, his hairy chest exposed to the sun and his face covered with a newspaper.

So perhaps this is what doctors do in the summer. Disguise themselves with newspapers and hairy chests and get away from it all.

BUT COME September, the windy days and chilling rains and we forsake the dog for the doctor.

We used to have specialists. There were the pediatrician, the nose-and-throat man, the dermatologist and the internist. When the whole family came down with a respiratory infection we could never decide which one to call, and ended up by calling them all.

We had to have the front hall widened and another telephone installed.

This system would not have been too bad had the doctors been able to remember us between visits, but they were chiefly interested in the inside.

OCCASIONALLY WHILE lying in bed, we'd dream feverish dreams of an old-fashioned G.P. who could treat you from head to toe and from crib to grave.

Then we found one and it has been a very satisfactory arrangement. He remembers our names and knows us outside as well as inside. He comes when we call without requiring the family pedigree.

When several of us are ill he lines us up and peers into throats and ears, whirrs us around and shoots his trusty penicillin. Anyone not sick had better keep out of the room.

Another thing: When you tell him you're sick, he believes you and sets about learning what's wrong. During our age of specialists the doctors subscribed to the "treat 'em rough and tell 'em nothing" method.

THE PEDIATRICIAN considered all mothers vipers who did what they could to counteract his good work. It was his opinion that mothers shouldn't be blessed with children — only pediatricians were equipped to care for them.

That's why, when our doctor drives his little car up to the door I can sometimes imagine him pulling up in a gig, a woolen muffler around his throat.

I can see him driving over miles of snow-covered fields in the early morning, to arrive at breakfast time, and I get a strong urge to offer some coffee and hay.

But I'm afraid he wouldn't understand.

Local Teachers To Attend Yale Math Conference

Four teachers in the Lafayette and Orinda school districts will attend a meeting in Chicago Thursday and Friday of the School Math Study Group.

The group is the organizing committee appointed by the president of the American Mathematical Society in 1958 in cooperation with the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the Mathematical Association of America. Headquarters is at Yale University.

Directors of the program is Professor F. G. Bogle of Yale, and Dr. Max Beaverman will be the leader of the group. The advisory committee consists of college and university mathematicians, high school mathematics teachers and experts in education and representatives of science and technology.

Lafayette teachers attending the conference are Mrs. Sophie Bigelow, fourth grade teacher at Lafayette School, and Moele English, Burton fifth grade teacher.

Attending from Orinda will be Martha Meek, fifth grade teacher at Glorietta School, and Mrs. Edith Andres, who teaches fourth grade at Orinda School.

The S.M.S.G. will pay all expenses for the teachers, while they receive orientation and an outline of the year's work. This will be the first time local districts have participated in a national mathematics pilot program in the lower grades.

Walnut Creek schools are now using the Yaale algebra materials.

Nursery School Has 1st Meeting

The Orinda Nursery School held its first monthly meeting of the 1960-61 season last night at the Fellowship Hall of the Community Church.

A "get acquainted" program was presented; first by the director, Mrs. William Patterson and teachers, Mrs. H. E. Harris and Mrs. R. N. Laney who described the curriculum of the school.

Then the board members, led by Mrs. Raymond Smith, the president of the nursery school, described their individual responsibilities and the interrelationship of the board jobs.

Small groups of all the members then discussed what they expected from the nursery school and why they had chosen a co-operative.

The teachers and board members this year are stressing the importance of the mothers becoming acquainted with each other and the sharing of problems that the children may present.

Refreshments were served after the meeting by Mrs. Owen Owens and her committee consisting of the Mesdames William Leonard, Pierce Hussey, Robert Lee, Kenneth Vantress.

Letter of Protest Will Be Sent To Contractors

Orinda Union School District trustees, incensed at the delay in completing the Inland Valley School, determined Monday night to write a strong letter of protest to Reynolds Company of Santa Rosa, contractors for the project.

Due to be completed August 9, an extension was granted advancing the date to August 25. An additional seven and a half days was then asked, but as yet the building is incomplete with only six rooms occupied.

TRUSTEES learned Monday that the contractor will not give a progress report to Superintendent Joe Sheaff. Lack of progress, however, is obvious to even a casual passerby. No roof is on the multi-use room.

In other business the board approved the school hours for 1960; approved dues for membership in California Association of School Administrators, California School Boards Association and Contra Costa School Boards Association.

Six thousand dollars was transferred from the general fund to the cafeteria account, and authorization given to obtain quotations for primary tables and chairs for the Orinda School.

Superintendent Sheaff reported that the enrollment total for this year was 3,259. Last year's district enrollment was 3,194.

IT WAS announced that the operational tax for 1960-61 would be $2.39, two cents higher than the original estimate.

The trustees also authorized Superintendent Sheaff to attend CASA Conference in Long Beach in December.

Authorization was given to Sheaff to obtain bids, specifications and agreements for the transportation of cerebral palsy and mentally retarded children.

Due to the wire selection of substitute teachers for this year, The State Division of Highways will open bids October 13 in Sacramento for construction of traffic signals, highway lighting and channelization at the intersection of Sign Route 24 freeway off-ramps with Camino Pablo in Orinda.

A total of $20,000 is available for the project, including $8200 in state highway funds and an estimated $11,800 to be paid by Contra Costa County.

Library Board Meets Thursday

The members of the board of directors of the Orinda Library Incorporated and the subsidiary, the Friends of the Orinda Library will hold a meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. at the library.

There will be a report given to the members by the board and an election will take place for new directors for the coming year.

Bids To Be Opened On Camino Pablo Work

The State Division of Highways will open bids October 13 in Sacramento for construction of traffic signals, highway lighting and channelization at the intersection of Sign Route 24 freeway off-ramps with Camino Pablo in Orinda.

A total of $20,000 is available for the project, including $8200 in state highway funds and an estimated $11,800 to be paid by Contra Costa County.

PEOPLE WHO have this type of mailbox arrangement for their homes are certain to receive their mail correctly, but unless their home is clearly marked with a number, emergency crews could have a difficult time locating the proper building. The Orinda Fire Department has urged all residents to place house numbers on their homes to alleviate this problem.

Sell House With No Bedrooms?

"You can't do it!" "Yes, I can, and I can do it in 24 hours!" "Sell a house with NO bedrooms? In 24 hours? If you sold it in 24 days you'd be lucky!"

THIS UNNERVING situation developed this week at the office of Realtor Charlie Bailey, who was elected president of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, Monday.

Being a board president doesn't however, prepare you for all contingencies—such as a salesgal (Mrs. Emma Lee Van Meter) claiming she can sell a home with NO bedrooms.

It is really a nice home, only its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Rasmussen of 157 Pleasant Hill Road just hadn't gotten around to adding the bedrooms they planned.

The real estate listing, as a result, included a living room, kitchen, bath and family room, a garage, a roomy lot.

BUT NO bedroom.

Mrs. Rasmussen had explained to Mrs. Van Meter that when they found they couldn't add the bedrooms as soon as expected, it was a matter of adapting the family room for bunk beds for the youngsters.

Special arrangements for re-arranging were also made in the living room.

Now, the Rasmussens are looking for a big, three-bedroom home in the area.

AND THE buyers, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rangel of Richmond, who appeared the same day, are planning on adding those bedrooms!

Boss Bailey, in his incredulity, bet his upstart salesgal such a sale was impossible, saying it would undoubtedly land in the local papers.

So—here it is!

Proceeds from the "Tasting Bee" will go toward the kitchen building fund for the new church now under construction at 233 Moraga Way, Orinda. Reservations for the affair may be made by calling Mrs. Norman Miller, CL 4-5314.

Nixon-Lodge HQ Opens Monday

Nixon-Lodge campaigners will turn out en masse Monday night to herald the opening of the campaign's county headquarters located at 3627 Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette.

The celebration, which is open to public participation, will be touched off at 6:30 p.m. with simultaneous motorcades through Walnut Creek, Concord, Pleasant Hill and Lafayette, featuring "vintage" cars and Bob Pelusi's old time fire engine.

Entertainment at the opening will run the gamut from a barber shop quartet to a tennage combo.

A RIBBON-cutting ceremony will be held at 7:30 p.m., with the snipping being done by county campaign co-chairmen, Mrs. Harold C. Bates and Donald Doyle.

A "car hop" service, provided by the Young Republicans, will serve bumper strips, campaign buttons, etc., in front of the new headquarters. Jack Babin of Walnut Creek heads up this operation.

Dear Old Golden Rule Days!

Next to Christmas & Birthdays, there's nothing like the First Day Back to School to stir up excitement w/ the kiddies.

"Who'sa get?" was the question of the week w/ most moppets impatient for the mailman to deliver the card that announced who the New Teacher would be. It's a good thing the teachers can't hear how their names are banded about but it appears that after the first day, everybody is quite happy & ready to settle down. (They OUGHT to be—after 3 mos. of molecular energy.)

MOTHERS repressed their relief, at least until the school bus was out of sight, & then as one woman put it—"I just went WILD!"

THE MASSES OF MOPPETS turned out in stiff new jeans, the latest wash & wear & shiny new shoes—w/laces untied & a few inevitable limps & heel blisters showing at the end of the day.

The "Whaddya wearing?" was as important as "who'sa get"—& up at Pine Grove, the polished cottons & saddle shoes were out in pristine profusion. HOT under the collar were the lassies who simply HAD to wear their new fall skirts & sweaters but we'll bet by next week's Indian Summer weather, they'll hang 'em up in exchange for cool cottons.

PROUD PAPAS joined mothers at the bus stop to preserve on film this cataclysmic event. A few kindergartners cried & clung to mama's skirts. There were the usual forgotten lunchbags & the lump-in-the-throat nervousness for the newcomers.

THE DAY was quiet, hushed & peaceful, broken only by the noon-time bus motor coming down the hill. Still later, after two, the first children's voices heard on the horizon & then by 4 it all sounded very normal again. We love 'em, we can't live without 'em, but boy, a little rest in between makes a world of difference, doesn't it?

And so the Big Day ended, the only homework being the difficulty of learning her locker combination, quite an accomplishment for my non-mechanical-minded daughter!

No Pool like THIS old pool!

ORINDA PARK (along w/ Oak Springs, it's the oldest in the area) wound up its summer activities w/ a Teenage Loo-WOW preceding by a week the Inter-pool championship meet, held last Sat. all day & culminating in a big supper-spread for swimmers.

The first feel of fall & the sun playing Hide & Seek behind cottage-cheese clouds... The SEARs family on the bench, ready w/ a plaid blanket to wrap around their mermaid Karen... The Merrill Olsens to watch their Lorna & Kim cop honors... Snug in a Norske ski sweater, Doris Scott cheering for Rusty who took home a 3rd place ribbon!

GOOD TO SEE JIM Benney walking around after that home accident of going through a plate glass window. (Connie won't keep the glass so crystal-clear from now on!) Sitting on the sidelines arby was Julie Johannessen, Scout leader, who practically saved Jim's life by applying an expert tourniquet above the 3 severed arteries before the Fire Dept. rescue squad arrived. Julie lives next door & luckily was home when the Benney children ran to get her. What's more, she can never thank Bill Koch enough for so thoroughly training her as well as her girl scout troop, in the techniques of first aid for their merit badge.

FOR "Mother of the Month" award, we give you Julie Johannessen... her 12 yr. Judy did her mother up proud presenting her w/ a First Ribbon in 12 & Under Girls' freestyle.

QUELLE EXCITEMENT, crowds cheering, as little Mike Worth took his first-time award, placing 2nd in Breaststroke, 5 & under... Helen Johnson's family rooting for her as she took a blue ribbon in Breaststroke, 14 & under... Betty Williams w/ a handful of colored satin badges won by her boys... & Kent tied for 1st in one race, took another 1st place in the crawl, the Williams' tiniest tadpole Diane "fimming" like a fish to a first place too, in Breaststroke.

Craig Madsen, who placed 4th in 12 & Under Breast, had a real rooter in his Aunt Betty who attended the meet w/ Bonnie & Chris Madsen... Father showing his finished Polaroid pix to benchwarmers only minutes after he'd taken it!

SHIVERING in their seats... Kay Brush beaming over Barbie's victories... Margaret Anderson & Twinn Hauer cradling cups of hot coffee... On the isle, helping as officials, Coach Don Anderson, Peggy Kirby's keen & comic good spirit, Ger Pilex, Hank Zaccarais, Jack Saunders... Doctors Jim Eldred & Bill Leftwich talking together... A camera slung over the shoulders of Tom Wilcox... Charles Kersten sunning poolside w/ his blonde sons, Mike & Kim... The Tom Buffalows moving their chairs to a warmer spot... The Al Baers' little Leana proud as the dickens w/ her first ribbon for placing 5th in freestyle, 6 & under... The Baers romped in the redwoods of Brookdale, spent last wknd. waterskiing in the Sac sloughs. (can't you just see Al Baer romping??)

AFTER PLENTIFUL potato salad, hot dogs, cupcakes & drinks, twilight settled on happy sportive Swim Teamers who flocked to the floor of the Volley Ball Court where Coach Don made the awards... Dorothy Bray's dgtr. DEBBIE coming through w/ flying colors & voted the member who "most improved" in timing & technique... TOM KIRBY & Johnny Cooper sharing the Popular Vote for the most outstanding swimmers in the older age group... Tom, by the way, swam a gripping race w/ Don Navone, both banging the concrete almost simultaneously, Don breaking his own record by a mere fsssst instant!

Mary Lee Eldred, pleased as punch to take the trophy for the most outstanding swimmer in the younger group... The Eldreds have a bunch of Water Babies!

PRESENTS FOR PEG & DON, (Kirby & Anderson, that is) & none more welcome than the handsome plaid woolen blanket robe presented Our Gal Peg who proceeded to wear it Indian-fashion the remainder of the eve... Buddy Worth dashing home to change into some fancier duds to participate in the short party that followed 'til 9:30.

A WHITE cardigan sweater in the gift box for Don A... his wife Gail sharing some fancy footwork w/ Jerry Kirby... The new plastic Japanese lanterns in gay colors casting a soft glow over the celebrative swimmers... Shivering in their shorts, Candy Eray & Sheri Sage... Scott Saunders cutting a few swaths w/ the girls, including his mother Merle... Scott is aged 3... New school clothes being broken in, a few limpers noticed wearing hard new shoes... A green matchmate sweater & skirt on Lee Anderson... Mollie & Leon Popeney taking turns at the terpsichord w/ their tots... Mollie deserves a special merit badge for her efforts on the part of the Teenage recreation activities. The kids love her & she charms us big ones, too! Another season nearing its end at the same pool we first swam in when at age twelve, we first summured in Orinda... Now our children are doing the dunking!

CALLED TO THE POOL for business was Jean Cullen last Sunday under the pretense that Peg K. Simply had to talk to her immediately. Jean, who moves into a new home in Carmel Valley soon after 19 yrs. of residence here, was surprised by her long-time friends w/ a morning party... What's more, just like a Honey-mooner, she'll have a new Service for 8 in dishes to stash away in her brand new cupboards, the gift of Betty Bell, Jane Rose, Pat Woodcock, Jean Bottjer, Jane Lester, Helen Clark, Emily Koch, Marian Stengel, Kitty Schwarck & Peg Kirby. Also on hand was Jean's sister Betty Larkin over from SF for the day... Jean Bottjer had them in hysterics w/ her acct. of camping out (sans Dick) in Yosemite & being raided by the Bears... Jane Lester was just back from a tenting time at Lake Tenaya.

MORE MOTHERS for Merit Badges: Joan Hughes, a fair & fairly newcomer to Las Espiral, who Sun. last hosted the neighborhood children & friends of her Joannie & Richard's to a big blow-out, a "Back To School" party!

Pin a medal, too, on Millie Twining for taking the first round of son Ken's rigorous hike for HIS merit badge w/ him... they walked up & out Bear Creek Road, father Fred finding the two tramp, tramp, tramping into Uppher Pupper Happy Valley. HE took over from there! Even the dog was footsore!

IT WAS A WOW of a Loo-Wow for the local natives, too, when the teenagers held their recent Polynesian party at the Park Pool

... Hawaiian guitar music intermingled w/ Bop & the kids worked like beavers — boys like Vic Clarke, Steve Brush, Perry Mann, Jerry Kirby, Greg Petersen... Carrying boulders, toting palm trees for a tropical effect were more like Tom Kirby, Sandy Cutler, Chris Coombs not to mention many, many others... Mark Wilcox hard at work in every corner & the girls who out in prelim. party duties were Shari Sage, Linda Van Sickle, Carol Pederson Barbi Brush, Sandy Coates, Judy Hauer, ecetera, etc.

JUST MOLLIE & ME & the youngsters make three who have special thanks to Mr. Van Sickle who welded the new Barbeque grills to his wife Barbara for helping w/ the table set-up, Barton Jr. & of course, little Lisa Van Sickle who had her fingers in the punch "helping" to make it taste better.

MORE THANKS & a lei of makebelieve orchids to HELEN STONE who spent the long afternoon cooking, to Marty Spittler & Bill Schwarck & Bob Bailey who were fire-tenders, to Wishy Sage, good mother, who helped serve along w/ Irma Lee, Betty Bell, Ethel Spittler aided & abetted by our good old stand-bys, Peg Kirby, Don & Gail Anderson.

The Clean-up committee came through & the park was literally floored w/ fronds & mashed flowers at evening's end... Some of the beachcombers on hand were Ann Lincoln, Candy Bray, Mike Chance... Vic Clarke & Steve Brush wearing lava-javas... Traditional Dottie Lamour (who's she?) sarongs were sported bravely by bare-shouldered Sharon Bray, Sally Bolster & a few other stouthearted young ladies.

THE MUUMUUS were TooToo, favored by most, Terry Scott no exception in her seemingly aflame, but actually ingeniously hand-painted attire... Marty Spittler, tall man on the teen totem pole, completed his costume of loud yellow & black bermudas w/ a tiki god which he'd made himself... LOVELY HULA HANDS for Leigh Thomas whose summer souvenir of grass skirt & lei came in handy for the party... It was a much mele mele time for the Malahini teenagers... ALOHA now, ooooh-oooh!!

IT'S A LOVE GAME, this tennis business for members of the Orinda Tennis Club who held their group's semi-annual club championship meet last Sun. at the five St. Mary's courts...

Pres. Percy Dawson greeting members who started early in the day, finished play-offs in the late hot afternoon... Tom Stowe, the Berk Tennis Pro, on hand w/ talk of plans for a tennis club in Moraga...

THAT'S THE WAY the ball bounces... Stan Massie & Anna Harper reaching the semi-finals, their 1st round start w/ F. Allen & Charlotte Daly... Jack Reiser & Bill Jackle taking Cht Brisco & Adele Dupuis 7-5, 6-1... Bill Brobeck partnered w/ Barbara Gibbs... Barbara's mother Helen Gibbs & John Williams reaching 4th place in 2nd round.

We'll never be a Sports Scribe... but anyway... footwork & fancy serves made it fun to watch Dentist Dick Morton & Judy Hopkins playing together... Ralph Ligon teamed w/ Babs Massie, Dick Fehr, Ann Jeffery, Ginny & Ollie Hamlin more of those tearing up the courts.

At 3 p.m., Ralph Ligon & Babs Massie reached the Finals to play the other contenders, Tennis coach Floyd Svensson & our young tennis champ Lynn Abbes in a fleet-footed fast-playing game that gave Svensson & Abbes their second-time NET WIN together as a team... final score 6-2, 6-1.

A week from tomorrow night, Sept. 17, Lombardy ladies will transform the grounds of Orinda Country Club into a baronial castle complete w/ moat, royalty & King Henry VIII-size steaks... Knight to Remember" will be just THAT & if you want to dream you dwell in marble halls w/ leaping lord & all the King's Men & ladies, do call now for tkts... Caroline Read, CL 4-3557 or Fran Connolly, DR 6-4222.

Another Routine Day in the Life of a Central County Resident

WHO mentioned an early BIRD? It's far too cozy here to be up with the dawn.

SHAVING is just one of those things a fellow has to put up with morning after morning.

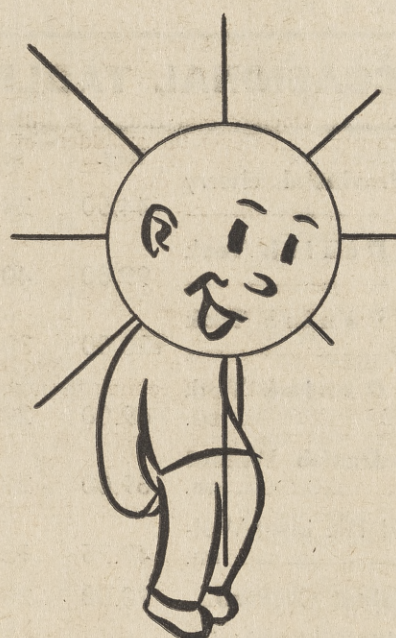

PHONING the office when one is unavoidably detained is considered good policy.

AT WORK at last! Typing can be a problem if one's claws are too long.

STEALING a kiss brings quick relief from office tension, especially when the gal is pretty.

Hi everybody, I'm Chester.

Maybe I'm just a bit conceited, but that's natural for my breed . . . that is, the assortment of breeds that I am.

You see, I happen to like it here in this community. I don't dig those crazy cats that commute. Why work, buy, play anywhere else, when everything is right here at one's claw tips? Even the night life is, well, it's Meowowr . . . rr . . . rr!

IT REALLY made me purr when The Sun photographer and reporter asked to do my story. The photographer was o.k., but that nosy reporter asked too many personal questions.

Writing is my business anyway, so I'll tell my own story.

No one looks too sharp, first thing in the morning, but I must say that photo of me waking up turned out rather well. That slightly glazed stare is NOT from a night on the town. I worked late.

Had a little trouble shaving, have to avoid the whiskers, you know. Whiskers are important to a cat. You fellows with mustaches will understand.

What with the problem shaving and interruptions by that nosy reporter, my time was running short. Decided I'd better phone the office and let the boss know I'd be a bit late. It's rather good policy to do that.

BY THE time I reached the office, I'd had enough of that nosy reporter. Luckily he ceased to be a problem. He didn't get any further than my pretty secretary at her desk. Typical.

With him out of the way, (I must give that cat a raise) I settled down to do my column for the Associated Felines.

Analyzing the world news requires a bit of research. I check frequently with the large globe I keep on my desk.

Can you imagine that! Just as I'm pounding out copy on the typewriter, that nosy reporter glances my way and bursts into maniacal laughter. Sounded worse than when a bunch of us cats get together on a moonlight night!

YOU KNOW what that idiot said? Chortling with laughter he had the audacity to say, "You know, there's just something about you sitting there at that typewriter that reminds me of our society editor."

You'll have to excuse me if I use a dirty word, but if you'll pardon the expression, I think a society editor is strictly for the BIRDS.

Finally persuaded that reporter to go buy himself a beer. Personally, I'm a milk man, but everyone to his own taste, I always say.

It was such a relief to have the man gone, I momentarily forgot the photographer was around. He caught me stealing a kiss from my assistant.

SHE BLUSHED right up to her whiskers, but I didn't mind having the photographer witness my technique. It's pretty smooth. Maybe that reporter could learn a thing or two at that, had he stuck around.

After a tasty dinner of fresh trout, I settled down to view television. It's an ideal way to relax before going out for an evening. Lets the dinner settle.

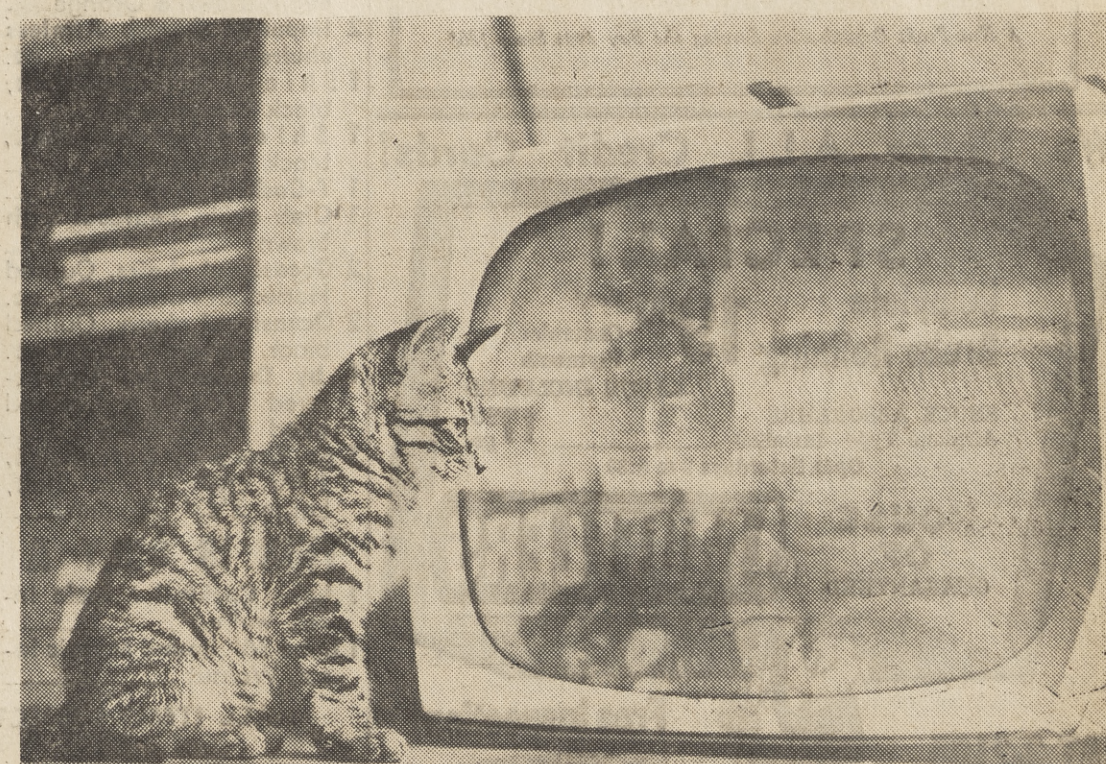

I'm a little disappointed that the editor didn't use more of my pictures. The photographer took some profiles and stills that I think are great.

He wanted to stick around and watch my night life, but I excused him after television.

What I do in the evening is my own business.

RESEARCH is essential for background coverage of world news. Wonder what the situation is in Africa?

RELAXING before television is a fine way to rest up for a big night out.

Bond Financing Viewed By Acalanes Trustees

Acalanes Union High School District trustees this week heard Assistant Superintendent J. Ross Reagan present figures indicating a need to seek voter approval for the continuance of the present bond authorization.

This would assure adequate housing for anticipated increased enrollment in the high schools of the area, he said.

Reagan said present funds would be exhausted by this year's building at Del Valle and Miramonte and the grading of the fifth high school site at Rheem Center. CONSTRUCTION of the building there scheduled to be started next spring and occupied in the Fall of 1962, would be impossible without assurance of sufficient bond selling capacity over the next five years, he added.

The last bond issue presented to the voters of the area was in 1955. Some 3 1/4 million was spent mainly to build Miramonte High School in Orinda, and the present partial construction of Del Valle High School in Tice Valley.

Recommendations of school experts, based on the rapid growth of population in the area, call for the construction of the Rheem Center school and the acquisition of sites for the sixth and seventh schools during the next five year period, Reagan declared.

During the discussion Board Member William Lee emphasized that election approval would not increase the school tax rate, but would maintain it at its present level since the district is already bonded to its legal limit.

"APPROVAL of the bond issue," Lee said, "would spread the cost of construction to future residents of the district who will be moving in and bringing with them children who will be attending high school in the years to come."

Superintendent Neil M. Parsons reviewed the building program of the district for the past 20 years which has been conducted on a "build as we go" basis, resulting in "A planned, orderly, growth which has avoided the necessity for double sessions and the attendant impairment of the educational program."

Parsons expressed the opinion that residents of the district, whose children, including those presently in the elementary grades, will be the ones most affected by the election, have a large stake in the issue and should not rely on school personnel to carry the entire responsibility for the success of the election.

Members agreed to consider alternative amounts of 3.7 million and 3.9 million needed, the date on which to hold the election, and announce their decision at the next meeting of the Board, October 3.

IN OTHER ACTION, trustees granted approval to Radio Station KKIS to broadcast high school football games; Reaffirmed opposition to rezoning of corner lot across Stanley Boulevard from Acalanes High School; authorized a contract with the County Superintendent's Office for the education of severely mentally retarded children. They heard two requests for the extension of school bus service and approved an agreement for the use of Miramonte High School swimming pool by the Orinda Swim Club. During the meeting, the trustees gave approval for the hiring of reader assistants to read term papers and reports of junior and senior year history and government students.

This has been the practice in colleges and universities for years and recently has been advocated in high schools to obtain improved instruction and more efficient utilization of skilled teachers in the classroom by relieving them of some clerical duties.

ASSISTANT Superintendent for Education Max M. Appleby presented the recommendation of the teachers for the proposal after describing the "large class" system used successfully for several years.

Under this system, classes of from 80 to 120 are taught by a "team" of two master teachers, using the lecture and project methods to encourage self-direction and prepare students for similar experiences after they leave high school.

While the class is being taught by one teacher, the other is freed for research, work with individual students, and preparation for the next day's classes.

Under the new proposal, persons with college degrees and a major in the particular field will be employed 10 to 15 hours a week to read and correct term papers, project reports, book reports, and examinations.

SUCH A SYSTEM has been successful in a number of schools throughout the country including Palo Alto, Piedmont, and Berkeley in the Bay Area.

Teachers to whom readers will be assigned will meet regularly with their readers to discuss expected content of the papers, standards for grading, and to evaluate the effectiveness of the method.

The technique will be used first at Acalanes and Miramonte High Schools, and if found valuable, may be extended to other schools of the District.

Bridge Painting Is Completed

The Board of Supervisors accepted as complete the contract with Deemer and Deemer of San Francisco for the painting of structural steel on three bridge in the area.

They are Manzanita Drive, Orinda, at San Pablo Creek; Reliez Station Road, Lafayette, at Las Trampas Creek; El Portal, Danville, at San Ramon Creek.

The bridges, after being cleaned of rust and old paint by sandblasting, were given three coats of paint. A new, green paint recently developed by the State Division of Highways, was used for the final coat. Green was chosen because it is more in harmony with the surroundings than was the previously-used aluminum finish.

Nejedly Takes ANC Suggestions To Sacramento

District Attorney John Nejedly presented his case against the conduct and procedures of the Aid to Needy Children Program, Monday, at a conference called in Sacramento by Governor Edmund Brown.

Nejedly offered a number of suggestions for possible legislative enactment.

At the same time, State Senator George Miller, Jr., of the 17th District and Assemblyman Jerome Waldie of the 10th District sent a letter criticizing the present ANC program and offering suggestions to a state official.

THE RECIPIENT was John Wedemeyer, director of the California Department of Social Welfare.

Also, a study of the pros and cons of the Aid to Needy Children Program was begun by a special committee sponsored by the 32nd PTA District and other organizations, Wednesday night.

The meeting was held at the Red Cross Building, Walnut Creek.

Nejedly's presentation in Sacramento was made first to a meeting of district attorneys, called by Attorney General Stanley Mosk.

HE SAID the legislation is intended to "... place more emphasis on the welfare of the child and less emphasis on the pure economic subsidization of the parents."

He said, "One of the more significant bills would make fitness of the home a definite requirement for state aid."

"The Welfare Department and Juvenile Court would make investigation of the homes similar to that now made for adoption and guardianship, and certify the home as fit before any aid could be granted."

"Another law would give law enforcement more authority to require that welfare recipients cooperate in locating and identifying the absent fathers who should be supporting their children."

THE LETTER by Miller and Waldie said in part:

"We have been concerned with the apparent public dissatisfaction, with various aspects of the ANC program."

"We feel certain abuse involved in the program jeopardize what is essentially a necessary and proper function of our State Government, namely, protecting the helpless and unfortunate children abandoned by their parents or parent."

"After considerable thought and attention, we propose the following corrective measures for your consideration:

"(1) THE MONEY paid to a recipient mother, should in no case exceed the amount the father would have been able to earn if the family had been held together."

"(2) The eligibility of the mother should relate to the fitness of her home. If home unfit, the children should be provided for elsewhere.

"(3) Residence requirements for eligibility should be at least one year in State rather than day as present."

"(4) Where evidence of squandered money exists, payments should be made directly to butcher, baker, landlord, etc."

"(5) UNDER present ANC program, father is encouraged to abandon family to receive welfare income. We propose all general assistance programs be financed by Federal-State-County participation and thus encourage wage-earner father to remain in family, and in addition, ease the burden on the County property tax payer."

"We are aware that these proposed improvements will require changes in Federal, State and County laws."

"We have heard enough of the County blaming the State, the State blaming the Federal Government and the Federal Government blaming local administration. These proposals require concerted efforts by all three jurisdictions."

"We stand ready to lend our unqualified assistance to get this job done."

Grodins Marks Golden Year for Bay Area Shops

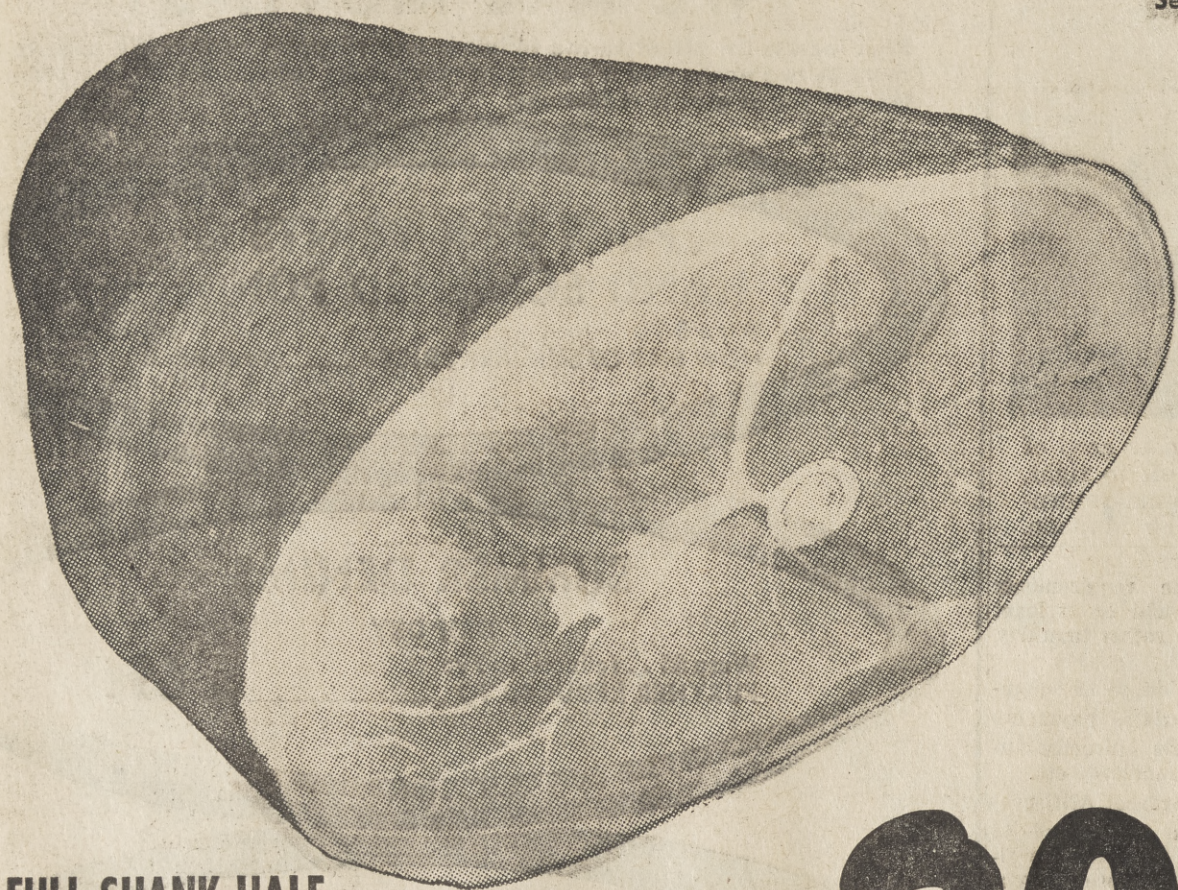

Grodins, popular East Bay men's furnishing store with a branch in the Broadway Shopping Center, celebrated its 50th anniversary at a dinner in Oakland last Wednesday.

Grodins employees, including A. K. Schwartz, the employee with the longest tenure. Mrs. Winifred Wilson, an employee of 25 years' standing, started in the credit department in the Oakland store and is now in charge of the credit department of the Walnut Creek store. The first Grodins store was opened in 1909 on Washington Street in Oakland, and the firm has been at its present location, 12th Street and Broadway, since 1924. In 1963, it is planned to more than double the present space, perhaps at a new location. Grodins' first suburban store was opened in Walnut Creek in 1951, followed by Hayward in 1953, San Jose in 1957 and Alameda in 1959. Construction is under way on a Sacramento branch, the largest suburban men's store in the state.

Moraga Minutes

Come for a Leisurely Chat And a Friendly Cup of Tea

It is a cold dreary day and the wind is blowing as it does so often in Moraga. So here I sit over the heat vent looking out at the forms of my husband and boy have laid for the patio we hope to have. I can visualize it, drenched in sunlight with the shadows of the waving reeds casting patterns on the pavement, flowers blooming and grass growing to the rim, like a pool spilling over.

As I raise my eyes to reality I see the golden wind-swept hills, the grasses churning like waves rolling to the beach, and the cattle playing follow the leader across the hills. A flock of blackbirds scatter like a handful of pebbles on the front lawn. Then all fly together to the next yard as if some unseen person had called out to them.

Captain, our dog, has just come in with a coat full of burrs. Come in and have tea with me and we will chat awhile, now that we have time on our hands with the children in school. How do you like having the baby you have had at home for five years in school now, and peaceful quiet hours part of the day, to do with what you want, with no one crying "mother, do this" and "get me that."

The children have gone off to school in their new wool sweaters and skirts, that just wouldn't wait for a cooler day. The pixie cut that turned to "Shaggy Dog" during the summer has turned back by a miraculous wave of the beauticians wand to a pixie cut again. Children are gleaming, new shoes shining, and all is new and beautiful as school starts, with new teachers and new students to get acquainted with.

The dog and cat lie sleeping beneath the table with no wild cries from the children to wake them. The boat has been dry docked till who knows when, the camping gear cleaned and put back on the shelf, summer clothes put away and winter one unpacked. I was as glad to see school begin as I was to see it end, so the world turns on and we are glad of the changes or all would be monotony.

I can drop the tranquilizer pills I have been taking since the children have been home, and give myself the day to read the book I have waited all summer to get the time for.

Now we can take our leisurely bicycle rides through the quiet countryside without the hazard of being hit by a flying baseball or run into by a flying bicycle navigated by one of our space age youngsters. I look forward to the chats with you, the bicycle rides I hope you new women will join, and just to spend a day with a good book.

I see Kitty Lynch and Joe and Ninni have started school in Canyon. We will miss them and all the wonderful work that Lou has done for the school. I hope she will visit with us as before.

Intermediate Girl Scouts are getting under way again with three new leaders, Ruth Salet and co-leaders Jerry Tarpley and Dolores McCabe. We have lost one of our girls, as Susan Rogers moved to Lafayette during the summer. We hope she will like her new school and have many friends. I hear her family are expecting a new offspring in December. Congratulations, Jo!

I hear a shower was given Carol Carey by Mmes. Roseblatt and Reiger at the Roseblatt home, with 20 neighbor ladies attending. Also the Hank Spatzs had a cocktail party celebrating their 20th wedding anniversary. Congratulations on your long and happy marriage.

Carroll Club had a barbecue for its members last Sunday, and the Quail Unit had a cocktail party Sturdy at the Rheem Estate, with a professional aquacade.

Have you seen some of the latest funny cards? I received one of the cutest ones the other day from the Gorows who were vacationing in Disneyland and along the California Coast.

Some of you newer women who would like to get acquainted with other new people of your area might try welcoming for Moraga School, thus you would be getting acquainted, making new people feel at home and doing the school a service that would be social for you. We need ladies in each new street area, especially Orchard Dell, Roberts Court and Sanders Drive. Please contact Lucille Barcelona, DR 6-4105, who is membership chairman.

The Parents Club is making great plans for the fashion show to be held Saturday, October 1, at 3 p.m. on the Donald Rheem estate, a beautiful pool setting. According to general chairman Brenda Bradley, we will also have men of the valley to model this year, and Grodin's of Walnut Creek will supply the men's clothes, and Velma of Moraga Casuals will supply the women's fashions.

I hope you will all buy tickets and come to the event as proceeds will go towards improvement of the Rheem school ball field and adding bleachers for the comfort of the parents. Thus boys and parents of the valley and Lafayette will benefit.

WHAT'S DOING

Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

Here's something new.

It's a drive-up phone. And right now it's being tested around the Pacific West to see if folks find it as handy and convenient as we think it is. The idea is to provide curbside phone service so you can call without getting out of your car—a real convenience. It's lighted so you can use it at night as well as during the day. We think you'll find it a faster and easier way to telephone when you're in your car and want to make a call.

There's gold in your telephone. Not very much, to be sure. Gold is used because it just won't rust. And it's put in spots such as dial switch points to insure long, trouble-free service. I suppose you're wondering how much the gold in your phone is worth. The folks at Western Electric who make our phones say there's less than a penny's worth in each. That's hardly enough to tip these scales or go prospecting for, but plenty to help keep your phone dependable.

September is schooltime, and a lot of young people will be leaving home for college or boarding school. Here's one good way to stay in touch with them—by telephone. Lots of folks set a regular time for calling and keeping up on the news. And more often than not, this time is on a Sunday or on weekdays after 6:00 p.m. when station-to-station rates are lower. The pleasure is big and the cost is small—a lot smaller than you think—when you keep in touch by telephone.

They make it easier to manage money!

"Times certainly change. Today most husbands expect their wives to manage the household money with some intelligence, and I like mine to be proud of the way I do it. My bank manager at Wells Fargo American Trust has made it easier for me to be businesslike. Believe me, it helps to have an expert right in the neighborhood!"

"The manager suggested a checking account to keep track of what I spend. My Automatic Savings helps me put money aside for extras. I've opened savings accounts for the children, too. It's sensible to do all our banking in one place."

"And I like the fact that my bank believes in women managing money—and always has. The manager said this was the first bank in the West where a woman could have an account in her own name. It's certainly the bank for me."

Now Is the Time to Do A Little Advance Thinking

May might seem like a long way off, right now, but it might not be as far away as you think.

In one respect, there is all too little time between now and then. As you may be aware, our schools are about the biggest business in Central Contra Costa County. They take the biggest share of our tax dollars.

They are of more importance to us than any of the other special districts because they have a direct bearing on the way our children turn out.

They invite more participation and interest from adults than any of our other districts or activities.

WHY TALK about next May and schools now, in the middle of September? Because there will be a series of school board elections at that time, and they will be important ones.

Because of the reorganization of our school boards, trustee elections were skipped this year and there will be quite a few trustee elections next May.

Now, if you, by any chance, are considering a post as trustee on one of our school boards — well, this is the time to start thinking about it seriously.

It might not be a bad idea, for example, to visit your local school district board meeting and sit in for a few evenings.

THIS WAY YOU will be able to see exactly what the recurring problems of the school district are, and how they are solved.

It will also give you an insight into the many, many long, hard hours which our trustees devote to the management of our districts.

It is a rather peculiar thing, but news-men get used to it after a while. Reporters consistently attend school board meetings and find that they are the only people there other than the trustees. This lends for a feeling of mutual respect and a certain informality prevails.

Then, all of a sudden, some hassle develops and the meeting must be moved to a larger room to accommodate the crowds that suddenly appear.

But this is the way of the world, and trustees wearily accept it.

Our only suggestion would be that if you are considering a post on the school board, that you attend meetings over a period of time to acquaint yourself with the operations of the district.

You might decide, for instance, that you really don't want the job after all! And it is much better to arrive at this decision (and the frame of mind that goes with it) before you file for the post than afterwards!

WE ARE, by no means, advocating that all the incumbents be ousted from their posts. At this writing nobody knows what vacancies will be occurring, who will be running, or which positions will be contested.

By and large the present trustees of all our districts have done an excellent job and deserve to keep their posts for as long as they can stand it.

But there are always people who decide that they have done their duty and then it is healthy to have others, who are informed and prepared, ready to step in and take over.

And now is the time to think about it.

We Like It Here...

Not for Me a Theda Bara Look of Pots of Mascara!

B MARIE MONAHAN

FALL is in the air & the magazines are full of the latest fashions!

When the pumpkin's on the vine & the coeds go back to college with their crisp new wardrobes, ah me, a wave of nostalgia fairly bowls us over!

THE BEST we can do is find something new in flannel to keep us from freezing on a chilly morn'g... A new pair of sneakers to tuck our toes into... maybe something special for the holiday season. (Only 83 shoppings until —)

I see that short hair & shiners, by golly, are the fashion edicts for fall.

JUST WHEN I am ready to make myself over into a New Woman then the style masters decree that the Mannequin Look will invade the feminine sphere.

That's how they put it in the fashion pages. What it means is that they want us all to look lean & haunting & Very Hungry! Why don't they just come out & honestly admit that a couple of oddball make-up men who probably despise women have decided to corner the cosmetic market by pushing the heavy-lidded look with the ladies!

Just when I'm getting rid of my own heavy-lidded look without the help of pencil & paste items, I do not intend to float around looking like a Theda Bara of the silent film days.

Since kiddies are back to school, I'm feeling very bright-eyed & believe me, I mean to stay that way. No night-blooming Vampira look for me.

In the first place, pencil around MY eyes & the children would SOS the doctor or dial for Grandma... My husband would shudder & shoo me away from his white shirt collar.

The neighbors might start gossiping & send over some beef-steak.

When it comes to being glamorous, I'm stymied before I've started! ONCE I BLEW a buck for some green eyeshadow. I never saw it again.

It seems the children used it for the make-up booth during a kiddie carnival they gave one Saturday. They positively plastered it on the customers — for a penny a treatment!

AND just try to keep a tube of mascara around here. Not a chance!

It ends up in little squiggles squeezed all over the walls — or the pajamas — or to make freckles on the white cat.

Just last week I finally got around to giving myself a manicure with the latest bottle of Strike Me Pink polish I had purchased in a moment of complete abandon.

You could have struck ME pink for the new bottle bore signs of drips & drabs, drizzled in dry streaks all over it.

As I sat trying not to tremble, to get it on straight (it always runs over on the side of the finger, whoops!) my youngest son came up to ask what I was doing.

"Mother is giving with the glamour, my boy. A manicure for the tired fingers so toil-worn for thee."

"Hmhmhm! That's the same stuff I use to mark my golf balls with... & the turtle, too!" (not to mention his model airplanes, well bet!)

You can't win! THE NEW LOOK describes us (Gals, get this!) as the Devastating New You. Well, I have news for the fashion world. The Old Me is Devastating enough. Completely devastated!

Letters to The Editor

READING CLASSES

Dear Editor:

In the past few years, many parents and educators have blithely accepted as unquestionable gospel any suggestions made for changes or additions to the present school program. One of the latest additions is the "Staggered Reading Program" now being employed in the Orinda Elementary Schools.

The program (very simply) is this. Part of a class arrives early, has their reading class, and is then joined for regular classwork by the balance of the class. At approximately 1:30 P.M., the early arrivals go home and the latecomers have their reading class.

The following is the program used by nearly all teachers in schools not using the staggered attendance plan. For ease and workability, the primary class is usually divided into three reading groups. Correctly scheduled, this plan allows time every day for each child to:

- (1) Read aloud or recite to the teacher within his own group,
- (2) Complete a reading exercise of phonetics or interpretation, etc.,
- (3) To read designated pages in his reading workbook,
- (4) To read a selected reading exercise or story.

This schedule does not even include the extra small culminating activities, i. e., reading to the class, plays and reading for fun experiences. It involves only the learning of the myriad of expertly programed reading skills.

These are some of the objections to the "Staggered Reading Program":

(1) The latecomer, generally considered a fast learner, is cheated out of his prime learning time for he arrives at school shortly before ten o'clock. His instruction in a subject as vital as reading is given him the last period in the day — a time when student and teacher's mental and physical senses are dulled by the activities of a busy day.

(2) A child's right to be placed in the best group anytime during the year as his reading abilities strengthen, or he slows down — is threatened if a change in reading group placement involves school arrival times and bus schedules. He also gains or loses the privilege of receiving instruction at his prime learning time.

(3) Any parent or teacher who has planned with children for an after-school group activity of any type seems immediately the problems involved when students in class are dismissed on an hour apart.

(4) All taxpayers, as well as students and parents, are becoming fascinated with the game of onesy, twosy now being played by school busses along Moraga Highway. In order to make a busload of students for the present reading schedule, busses are running almost constantly all day long. Regular stops are honored at least four and sometimes five times every day — picking up one or two children at a time — then later one or two more. When the bus is, at last full, a stop is made at one school — a group leaves the bus, then goes to a second school where the last six or eight children are delivered. Under this plan, some children ride nearly ten miles a day round trip. This is tragic, but multiply this by several bus trips, the cost of such an operation becomes apparent.

We are vitally interested in progress towards greater learning opportunities for our children. However, let us take a clear-eyed look at the new reading schedule for it would appear that we are seeing only the Emperor's new clothes.

Under The Sun Press Tour Reveals Why We Need Asian Friends

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

This is being written about half way between Tokyo and Okinawa. But by the time you read this, the press tour will have seen Okinawa, Philippine Islands, Taiwan, Formosa and Guam.

We are particularly looking forward to landing at Taipei, where we will have a chance to interview Chaing Kai Shek and see Nationalist China in action.

I've learned one thing about this tour — they keep us hopping. Our "steely-eyed leader" as we call him, is Major Chauncey McDermott, a terrific officer of the Military Air Transport Service. He is quite a guy. Has written four books, including a "Yank in Piccadilly", and a new one is scheduled in the spring — "The Night We Buried Al Lord." I'm going to try to get him to talk to some of the clubs in our area.

I started to say that we are kept on tight schedules. Here's the schedule for Monday, September 12, in Manila:

- 0830 Depart for American Embassy.
- 0900 Briefing by the Ambassador.
- 1130 Depart via boat for Sangley Point Naval Air Station.
- 1330 Briefing by Commander Naval Forces, Philippines, followed by tour of Sangley.
- 1430 Depart Sangley by aircraft for Cubi Point.
- 1500 Arrive Cubi. Briefing and tour of Cubi Point and Subic Bay Complex.
- 1800 Meet with Admiral Spring and staff.

Yes, this is a mighty tough work!!!

MATS saves us money!

The highlight of Japan was a 2½ hour briefing by Ambassador Douglas MacArthur III. It was off-the-record background, so nothing can be directly attributed to him. Actually he revealed no startling secrets but gave us solid background of Japan's vital position in the U.S. defense picture. He spoke at length of the recent riots which forced the cancellation of Ike's visit to Japan. He spent many words justifying his actions in this debacle. As you know, many people blame him, at least partially, for the mess.

Tall, sun-tanned MacArthur is very knowledgeable, an able speaker, smooth, the type you think of as an ambassador. Most of the news and radio men pegged him as an autocrat, snooty, long-minded and not a top flight representative for the U.S. government.

After touring Korea and the bases in Japan, I can readily understand why Japan is so important to U.S. defenses in the Far East — and why the U.S. is so important to the future of Japan. Philippines, Southeast Asia and the millions who want to remain free from Communist domination.

Why are 46,000 U.S. military men in Japan? This is too simply stated but here goes: If the U.S. pulled out of Japan, the Communists would move in as fast as possible by infiltration, subversive action and/or armed might. They did this in Korea when the U.S. pulled out. Because of its industrial might, Japan is a key target of the communist world. Remember — Communist China, Communist Russia and Communist North Korea are a few minutes from Japan by jet.

If Japan falls, Southeast Asia and other countries would fall. Then the Communists could devote full attention to India, the Middle East and Europe.

If we do not have bases in Japan, to protect them and ourselves, our defense line falls closer to our own shores. I hadn't realized that Japanese bases save U. S. taxpayers billions of dollars annually. How?

Just one example: We visited the giant Yokosuka Naval Base and saw ships being repaired that otherwise would have had to travel back to Guam or Pearl Harbor. The U.S. needs less ships because they are supplied and based out of Japan.

We visited Tachikawa Air Base, which receives tons of supplies flown in by the Military Air Transport Service for Korea and other Pacific points.

An Ambassadorial briefing

Incidentally, this MATS outfit is doing a real job. Because of their air transport, the Air Force has closed 18 supply depots since 1953 at a saving of 10 billion dollars annually. The Air Force, for example, buys less engines because they can fly them anywhere in the world in eight days, rather than 100 days or more by surface ship.

You can see that I have been brainwashed by MATS Major McDermott. Kidding aside, MATS has a vital story to tell. Men and material are needed in the Congo. MATS has ships alerted on the line and standby crews at all times to fly into an emergency, such as the Berlin Air Lift, Lebanon, Formosa crisis.

The U.S. must have a strong air lift service available, so MATS fly men and materials for our armed services. Thus they keep in training, supply U. S. forces and save billions of dollars.

U. S. commercial air lines are unhappy because they would like this business. Of course, it isn't all black or white — but which commercial air line can transport giant missiles? Which are prepared to fly thousands of men and supplies to the next troubled spot — within a very few days?

In Japan we were briefed by admirals and generals all over the place.

But don't get me started on Japan. It is fabulous. Tokyo defies description. The best I can do is: It is a crazy, wonderful mixed up city, the largest city in the world. Just a few years ago 65 per cent of Tokyo was in ashes. Today it is beautiful, with modern buildings, tree-lined streets, fast subways. But best of all — it is a city of charm with delightful, courteous, industrious people.

Tokyo's a delightful city!

Yes, I had some difficulty for a few minutes reconciling the fact that these people were our vicious enemy just a few years ago. Perhaps the Japanese have responded somewhat to the tremendous generosity of the United States in helping rebuild its country. Time will tell.

One Japanese store owner walked me four blocks to a store because my Japanese language is limited to about five words and I would never have made it. The people on the street will greet you and I too found myself bowing as they bowed to me.

Tokyo is a fun town, with an amazing variety of amusements and sights, thousands of tiny tempura or sukiyaki restaurants, Turkish baths and massage, which are wonderful for tired bodies. Millions of mad-driving taxi cabs. Elaborate shows with 300 dancing girls. Ancient tea gardens. New amusement parks. Gorgeous shrines and temples.

Stores filled with cameras, radios, silks, pottery, pearls — to intrigue the tourists. Tokyo is not cheap. I can't see how the Japanese can exist on their salaries.

Japan is not all Tokyo. We didn't have much time but Sunday two of us zoomed to Nekko on an express train. Rural Japan is green, wooded and every available inch under cultivation. On the way to Yokosuka we saw Yokohama and industrial Japan.

Our plane just flew to 6000 feet over the big, wide Pacific and soon we'll be in another troubled spot: Okinawa and the Ryukyus.

Ask Your Youngsters...

One thing about being a youngster — you can have a lot of fun riding a bicycle.

Take a look around you, either at home or when you are downtown. There are more bikes — complete with youngsters — than you might have realized.

But bicycle riding, like everything else, carries with it responsibilities, too. It is up to us, as parents, for instance, to teach our youngsters that a bicycle is not only a toy, but a vehicle.

AND AS A vehicle, it is subject to certain rules and regulations.

It is subject to all traffic laws. Riders should drive with traffic on the right hand side of the road, and naturally, should obey all stop, caution and warning signs and have the proper regard for pedestrians.

Each bike should include as standard equipment, lights, reflectors and warning devices as required by law.

Bikes should be inspected periodically to see that they are in top mechanical condition.

ALL OF THIS is elementary, you say? Sure, but there remains one very important question:

Do your youngsters know it?

You Get More Back...

It is nice to get back more than you give once in a while.

And it is an all too rare occurrence. But in the case of the United Crusade, this is exactly what happens.

We contribute, here in Contra Costa County, to UBAC — United Bay Area Crusade — and we get back more in funds than we contribute.

PERHAPS THIS is fitting. Many of the large industrial concerns, who employ many of our residents, are located on the other side of the tunnel.

And we have more than our share of kids in scouting, YMCA, and other youth activities.

But the important point is this. No matter who you are, whether you have children or not, or what you do, it is almost certain that the United Crusade touches you.

If you do have children, the answer is obvious. All the scouting campaigns, the YMCA and most of the youth organizations derive all or part of their funds from the crusade.

AND HOW ABOUT swimming? There's the swim to live program put on by the Red Cross and all those lessons, too, that adults participate in.

We have not considered, either, all of the many health and welfare agencies supported by the crusade.

It would be impossible here to go into all the agencies that participate in your gift. And it is not necessary.

If you give it a moment's thought, you will realize that the crusade touches you.

And upon realizing this, you will realize the necessity of your giving when the time comes.

It is one of the few gifts you can give where you can honestly know that you will receive in return more than you give.

Howard, Sit, Stay!...

By DUKE OSBORN

Dear Howard:

I'm not very good at this writing stuff, but my boss is too lazy to do the job for me. Besides, I'm not sure he knows how I feel about this.

I'm a lot better at playing with Duchess (Boy, is she dumb) than I am at writing letters, but you see, there's something I wish you would pass along to your people-type friends.

Now about this school business. I've heard The Boss talking about the Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club, and honestly, when I first heard that word my hair began to fall out.

I could just see you guys teaching me to do all those stupid things like "roll over," and "play dead," and that kid stuff.

WELL, THAT'S why I put up such a fuss that first night at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center. What else could I do? There were all these other dog-type guys yapping it up, and nobody would let us make friends.

It was real frustrating! And boy, was The Boss nervous. He just kept smoking cigarettes and smiling nervously, but when you started talking... well, we both jumped!

Since then, as you know, we've spent eight weeks together, and frankly, it's been kind of fun. I'm not at all sure I'm obediently trained, like that little cup you gave me says I am, but I do think it's kind of a nice game we play.

WHAT I REALLY wanted to say was, that if you would pass along to your people-type friends the fact that dogs

LIKE to go to school, maybe everybody would be a little better off.

I feel sorry for those mangy guys we see running loose on the streets, and honestly, some of the poor Bosses... they call and call, and their Dogs... well, they just don't know how much fun it is to come RIGHT NOW, when you're called.

But honestly, Howard, sometimes people look at me like I'm going to tear them apart. They don't know that I'll sit where I'm supposed to, and mind like I'm told. That I'll heel, and sit and stay, and even stand like a Statue and let them come up and make friends with me.

PLEASE DON'T show this letter to my Boss. I said, above, that I was trained and he'll have a fit! He still makes me practice every day, and sometimes I get bored and chase the Siamese when I should be paying attention to him (that's Duchess!)

Anyway, I wanted to thank you for teaching me so well, and I'm getting to like the new teacher I have in the second class, too, but not like you, because you were my first.

Say hello to "Me Too" and please, pass along the word about school to the other people with dogs.

Every once in a while, at night, I dream about your voice and jump a little bit, but I really didn't mind when you barked... pardon me, yelled at me like that. The Boss and I get along much better now.

Thank You,
DUKE.

Mrs. Robert Brown Serves Area Ably....

With Selfless Devotion She Serves the Community

With cheerful ability and genuine love for mankind, Mrs. Robert Brown of 413 Beatrice Road, Pleasant Hill serves her family, church and community with selfless devotion.

Pitching in where help is needed, Esther Brown can whip up a meal for 165 hungry boys or plan a worship service program for intermediate students with equal ability.

CALLING her role as cook this past summer for the youngsters at Loma Mar a "tremendous experience," she enthusiastically explained how it all happened.

"My son (Douglas, 16) left for Loma Mar the day after school ended in June, to work at the YMCA camp as an assistant in the kitchen," she recalled. "The camp cook had a family emergency and left. The camp director, faced with 165 boys to feed and only four young kitchen assistants was unable to find a replacement for the cook. My son spoke up and said his Mom could do it!"

He called me and explained the problem and the next thing I knew our bags were packed and the other two children and I were on the way to camp.

"NEVER had I cooked three meals a day for a crowd, my experience had been with church banquets and club dinners and things of that nature, but we got along famously. The other boys helping in the kitchen were students, one was a Japanese exchange student and we had a ball," she explained.

Interrupting her role as cook long enough to fulfill a prior obligation as camp counselor for a group of high school students at a camp near Santa Cruz, Mrs. Brown completed the summer as cook for the YMCA camp.

SOMEWHERE along the way, she found time to take her children to Tacoma, Washington where her family lives, and spend a few days there.

Mrs. Brown has been active with the Walnut Creek Methodist Church, as secretary, teacher, and in various other capacities. Asked what her church work plans were for this year, she answered, "I'm kind of leaving it open, as there are several other things I am involved in."

"Leaving it open," as interpreted by Mrs. Brown, means she is in charge of church dinners and the worship service for the intermediate classes for this year!

WHEN Mrs. Brown's children were younger (in addition to Douglas there is Craig, 15 and Barbara, 14) she was a Den mother, active with scouts, 4-H, church groups, served as camp counselor, and usually assumed a position of leadership in all these activities.

A few years ago, when serving on the Motion Picture Council in Walnut Creek, Mrs. Brown became interested with other members of that group in forming the Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Association of United Nations.

THROUGH her work with this group, she became interested in UNICEF. Now co-chairman of UNICEF for Contra Costa County, she is busy preparing for a big fall program.

"The purpose of UNICEF," she said, "is to treat ALL sick and hungry children. One penny given to UNICEF will provide five glasses of milk for a child."

"Five cents will provide vaccine for five children from tuberculosis. Ten cents will provide sufficient penicillin to cure two children of yaws. UNICEF buys the supplies and works closely with the World Health Organization and WHO that provide the know-how for distribution."

MRS. BROWN explained that UNICEF needs helpers, and anyone can help. Youngsters can go in organized groups from a private party, church affair, or through youth groups.

"The youngsters have fun, and at the same time the money they collect in lieu of treats is helping other children all over the world," she added.

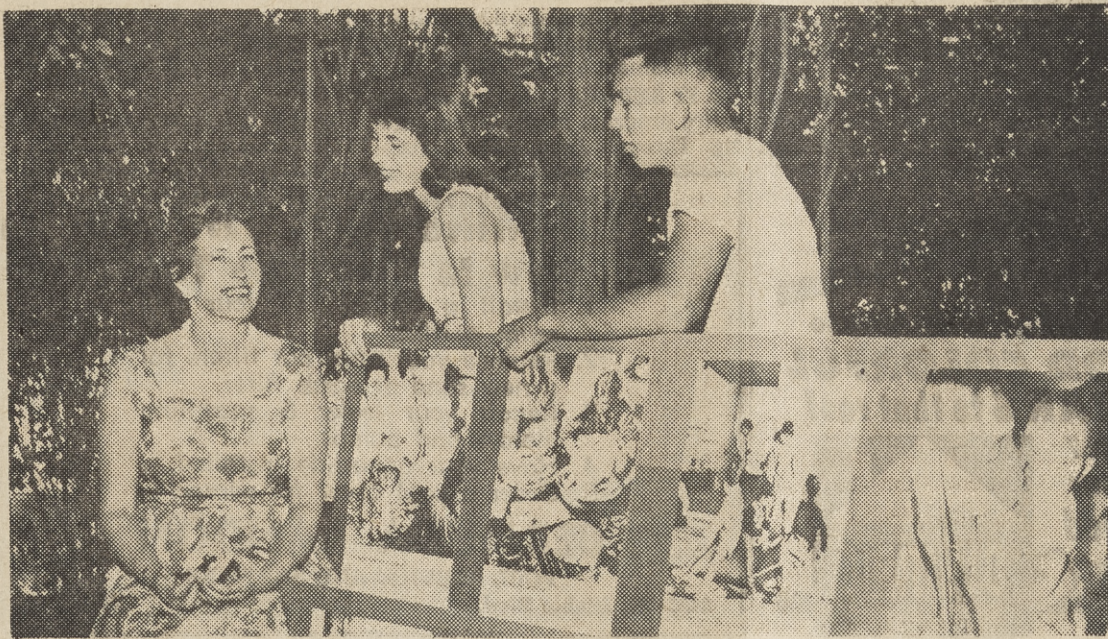

For adults interested in learning more about UNICEF, Mrs. Brown said that a Danny Kaye film, "Assignment Children" is available and tells the story of UNICEF. The film is loaned to all kinds of groups, and may be obtained by calling Mrs. Brown, YE 5-5578.

TOGETHER the family enjoys camping. She likes to sew, read, and walk. Never too busy to learn, she completed a sewing course last year and makes many of her own and her daughter's clothes. A whiz at cooking, Mrs. Brown's specialty is orange rolls which she described as a kind of yeast roll with luscious orange filling. Both Esther and Robert Brown are active members of the Jet Streamers, an adult church social group.

Asked if the family had any pets, Mrs. Brown exclaimed, "Indeed we do, the joy of our life is Tex, a golden retriever-cocker combination who is quite a character, but we love him dearly."

TEX HAS the distinction of being a dog raised by a cat. "His mother was killed when he was still just a little pup. Mrs. Tweety, our cat, providentially had kittens the same day and took over nursing the pups, sleeping with them, and later playing with them," Mrs. Brown related.

Mrs. Brown believes that all of her community and youth work is of equal importance. "One is an expression of the other," she explained, and is a way of working for world peace through a better, happier people. It is one way of fulfilling our Christian obligation."

UNICEF helps sick and hungry children all over the world. Barbara and Douglas Brown help their mother, Mrs. Robert Brown of 413 Beatrice Road, Pleasant Hill, arrange educational posters for the fall UNICEF program.

Birch Branch Plans Fiesta

Members and friends of Birch Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay, are going "south of the border, down Mexico way" for Fiesta de Mexico September 24.

The gay costume event will be staged in the Oak Springs Clubhouse in Orinda, getting underway at 9 p.m. amid an atmosphere of lush tropical flowers, cactus and gourds, bright crepe paper streamers and handmade donkey ornaments, transforming the room to a nook of old Mexico. Decorative giant sombreros and serapes, soft guitar and handsomely attired seniors and senioritas will add to the festive setting. Prizes will be awarded for the best Mexican costumes.

At the height of the festivities, all couples attending will celebrate festival time by gathering around for the breaking of the traditional Mexican pinata, which will be done by a blindfolded senior. The elaborate pinata will contain prizes for all.

Music for dancing and mid-night buffet of Mexican dishes complete plans for the party, which is a part of the branch's program of activities benefiting the Children's Hospital part-pay plan.

Arrangements for the affair are under the direction of Mrs. E. Murray Schmidt of Lafayette. Mrs. Douglas E. Gilkey of Orinda heads the host and hostess committee; Mrs. William L. Keeling of Lafayette and Mrs. David Schindler of Orinda, buffet; Mrs. John Haines and Mrs. Richard H. Stengel, both of Orinda, refreshments; and Mrs. William B. Morrison of Orinda, entertainment. Designing the tickets and planning for the unusual decorations are Mrs. John Purvis and Mrs. Grabe Smith, both of Orinda.

Dental Society Plans October Champagne Party

The most important event of early fall for the Women's Auxiliary of the Contra Costa Dental Society is their Champagne Party to be held on October 1 from 5 to 8 p.m.

The chairman of the festive affair, Mrs. Charles Evans of Danville has her committee hard at work. They are Mesdames Allen Faber, hors d'oeuvres; William Sheeran, catering; Norman Betague, tickets; John Tagg, reservations; James Trezona, decorations and David Tittle, publicity.

All the women in the auxiliary are being asked to contribute to the success of the party, making hors d'oeuvres and acting as hostesses. As the auxiliary is newly formed this year the champagne party will serve as a time to get acquainted also.

Plans will be finalized at the first regular meeting of the auxiliary on Tuesday at Kellogg's Steak House in Walnut Creek. In addition to the business at hand Mrs. Ronald G. Light, program chairman, has arranged for a speaker, Earl Simpkins, who will discuss "What Women Should Know About Their Husband's Affairs."

Animal Control Program Claims Imposing Record

Arthur Seeley, county agricultural commissioner, reported that progress has been made in the County's Animal Control Program which was placed under the direction of Charles Myhre last year. All cities within the County have now contracted to join the program with the exception of Antioch, he said.

The following statistics were released by Seeley:

Some 1530 animals have been placed for adoption in good homes; 1877 lost animals have been located and returned to their owners; 6406 dead animals have been picked up and disposed of.

SOME 1954 animals have been quarantined or impounded for biting; 35,008 dog licenses have been issued.

"The public is invited and encouraged to visit the two modern centers located at 2777 Arnold Industrial Highway, Martinez and 16949 San Pablo venue, Pinole when seeking a pet," said Seeley.

He stated that the dog licensing program serves three main purposes:

1. It insures that the owners of lost or stray licensed dogs will be contacted immediately when their animals are picked up.
2. IT SERVES to help make the entire program more self-supporting. Through June, 1960, a revenue of $128,000, has been realized.
3. It assists in the control of the stray animal problem.

Plant Sweet Peas For Winter Color

To list all the benefits of gardening in California would take a volume, no less. But one of our chief assets is the color we get in the dead of winter. While an easterner dreams of it, we depend on it—and what a difference that is. Perhaps the contrast is most sharply drawn in our ability to grow early flowering sweet peas and be cutting their masses of bloom by Christmas. We can do this almost invariably in mild-winter areas; and given a good fall, we can often do it where winters are less mild. Ask a local California Association of Nurserymen member what your chances are.

THE FIRST thing to know about growing sweet peas for winter is that you should plant them now, without delay. Wait much longer and an early spell of cold weather could stop your color show until nearly spring.

The second thing to know is that you must plant early flowering sweet peas. Your nurseryman will steer you clear here, so be sure to ask him.

After this, the normal cultural rules apply. Sweet peas like a free and easy root run, so the ground should be well prepared. This can best be assured by digging a trench 12 inches or more deep and to a shovel's width at least. This really takes little time compared to the rewards it pays.

ONCE THE trench is dug, layer a good thickness of manure on the bottom—six inches is not too much. Then add about three inches of soil and sow the seed. By this time, your trench will still be some three to six inches deep, depending on how deep you dug originally. As the young plants sprout and grow, fill in around them with topsoil until the trench is nearly at ground level.

Some birds seem to have a passion for sprouting sweet peas, so

Senior Citizens will hold an "Old Time Dance" at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center tonight from 8 to 11.

A special folk and square dance instructor will be guest caller for the evening.

Admission is 2 cents each. Refreshments will be served.

Members of the Walnut Creek Senior Citizen's Club will be at the door.

Personnel Men Being Sought

The East Bay Municipal Utility District has openings for two personnel assistants, according to William J. Stephens, personnel manager.

A civil service examination has been scheduled for October 6. The deadline for filing applications is September 26.

Banking Classes Are Scheduled

Members of the Mt. Diablo Chapter, American Institute of Banking, will attend fall classes in three groups at Diablo Valley College.

For the pre-standard students, "negotiable instruments" will be taught by Thomas McBride, Concord attorney, on Wednesdays at Room 3-B.

On the standard grade level Mrs. Doris Thomas, business instructor at Diablo Valley College, will teach "Effective Bank Letters," room 3-B, on Thursdays.

Graduate course bankers will attend "Home Mortgage Lending" taught by Dick Donovan, manager of the Bank of America, Pleasant Hill. This class began Tuesday at Room 3-B.

Photo Course Added to Adult List

A new photography course is being offered at the Acalanes Adults Center this term by William J. Corkery, who has been instructing classes in photography in the Alameda Adult Education for several years.

This class is designed to help beginners in black and white and color slides and give a well rounded course of instruction.

This will include lectures, question and answer periods, practical work sessions and demonstrations. Students will participate in class projects and will submit pictures and slides for constructive criticism.

Corkery particularly stresses proper exposure control, composition of subject matter and color composition.

Football Moves into Local Spotlight This Weekend

Thunderbirds Open Loop Play at Orinda Sunday

A full year of planning and hard work will be climaxed at 1:30 p.m. Sunday on the Miramonte High School field when the LaMorinda Thunderbirds of the Pop Warner Football Conference open their first league season.

The Thunderbirds, under Head Coach Pete Villa, will host the Millbrae Lions, who have been members of the conference for about seven years.

ALTHOUGH most of the players on the 30-man Thunderbird squad are from either the Pine Grove Intermediate or Miramonte High schools, the team is the official Pop Warner representative of Lafayette, Moraga and Orinda.

Villa said this week that he was confident the Thunderbirds will do themselves proud on the field of combat despite a sloppy showing in a practice game last Sunday.

The local club couldn't get its attack rolling as the Santa Clara County Hornets — favored to repeat as conference champions — rode gallantly over the Orinda turf.

As the league goes, Villa reported, the Thunderbirds are young but fairly big. He said the Millbrae club will have some older boys on the field, but the locals should compare favorably in height and weight.

VILLA WILL field a young squad, with an 11-year-old and only three 14-year-olds in the starting offensive lineup. He explained that most of the Thunderbird players will gain experience this year and will be eligible again next fall.

He announced that offensive halfback Bill Davies of Danville, the youngest starter on the team, and defensive end Bob Walthrop of Orinda will share the team captaincy for the opening game.

The LaMorinda Boosters Club, headed by President Joe Dame, recently formed a Parents Club for the team, and the parents are expected to produce an excellent spirit-raising program for Sunday's tilt.

SPENCER ARCHER, one of the team fathers, reported a pep band and pom-pom girls are expected to be on hand for the festivities, which will be open to the public at no charge.

Here is the starting lineup as announced by Villa:

Ends—Scott Babcock and Jeff Patton; tackles—Bob Macarrio and Pat Haley; guards—Bob DeGraffireid and John Poole; center—Jan Bottjer; quarterback—Pat Pease; halfbacks—Davies and Steve Bradley; and fullback—Ron Macarrio.

Piedmont Will Play 1st Game

The Piedmont Highlanders and the Acalanes Dons are the pre-season choices to fight it out for the top spot in the newly created Foothill League and they have still more in common in that both will be undefeated going into next week as both draw byes.

Coach Bob Muentzer has had his crew hard at work with a busy weekday schedule and noon time lectures the order of the day. Individual drills have been the order of the day along with more and more stress on team play as next week's opener draws closer.

THE PIEDMONT 11 will host Washington High of San Francisco in an 8 p.m. game next Friday night.

Coach Muentzer has nine returning veteran lettermen and has plenty of left in the line where four candidates tip the scales at 200 or better.

Ace of the backfield is expected to be Senior Bob Jones who made all league fullback as a sophomore and junior.

The real problem is to develop the necessary reserve strength which one needs to wind up as the circuit champion.

THE PIEDMONT Clan had a "come through" spirit last year and Coach Muentzer's main concern is to keep the torch burning. George Conn, an outstanding tackle last year, has been working out as a fullback and he has an up and coming sophomore in Jay Knowland, battling him for the starting spot.

Work and plenty of it has resulted in the squad rounding into good shape and a good many questions should be answered when they open with Washington High next week.

The Acalanes Dons, under head coach Bob Stevens and his right hand man, "Buzz" Rolfe Williams, have been undergoing daily workouts and in addition last Tuesday viewed a "movie" in connection with rule explanations.

The Dons took a layoff over the three-day holiday in view of the fact they don't play until next Friday when they host the Pleasant Hill Rams.

The Dons have a veteran first 11 on hand and could give the league a run for their money. Adequate size and experience all around figure to help the Dons and this, coupled with a fast backfield that averages around 170, could well put Acalanes in title contention with Piedmont, the defending champions listed by the experts as the club to beat.

Defensive drills took a good part of this week's workouts as well as the addition of plays planned to give the Dons a well rounded attack for the opener.

Vikings' Big Turnout Pleases Coaching Staff

"Sixty in '60," was the word Sam DeVito, Diablo Valley College head coach, had for the largest aggregation of ball players to turn out in any fall in the college's 10 years of competition.

"We have more than 60 players ready to suit up, but some haven't been assigned numbers yet," DeVito noted.

Alhambra Have New Coach for New League Debut

Alhambra High of Martinez will open the 1960 season next Friday when they play John Sweet of Crockett.

The game was originally set for Martinez under the lights, but road construction has clouded the grid picture as far as a night game is concerned.

The pole standards have been moved and it's a tossup as to whether or not they will be ready for the opener. In event they are not, the game may be played as an afternoon tilt at the Sugar City.

COACH RALPH Jackson has been at Alhambra for seven years, but this is his first as head man and he along with his assistant Bob Harrison, is working with a turnout of 105 along with the junior varsity coaches.

Alhambra joins the Foothill League as its newest member and figure to give a good account of themselves, what with 11 lettermen on hand.

The veterans reporting and expected to go a long way toward making the starting lineup are ends Dennis Watson and Keith Thomas; tackles Bob Curl and Jim Coulter; guards Ed Martin and Dave Schelhorn; center Van Boschetti; quarterback Bill Hitt; halfback Ken Huff; and fullback Johnny Dye.

Wall Bigliezone lettered as a halfback last season, but has been transferred to a guard spot.

THE LINE averages out at close to 170 but is definitely on the small side with a 150 pound average.

Jim Hammett, a transfer from Acalanes, has impressed with his early workouts as a halfback.

A new system and a new coach have created problems as far as workout time is concerned.

Practice games will tell a good part of the story and much depends on how well Coach Jackson and his crew can develop adequate reserve power.

NANDINA NEEDS PRUNING

Rams, Knights Meet in Tonight's Big Practice

Coach Hal Briggs of Pleasant Hill is the first to admit that graduation hit his ranks a heavy blow but comes up with a smile as he relates that his crew has displayed hustle and go all week long as they get ready for tonight's practice opener with the Las Lomas Knights.

The Ram candidates know that positions are wide open and that he who produces will get the starting call. Don Foster, a junior fullback with definite possibilities, figures to give the Rams a punch up the middle which could open the gates for the rest of the small but fast backs.

Line coach George Galli has been giving his charges a full time workout in order to get them ready.

THE HOT weather has resulted in a lot of loss of excess, but has improved condition and skill to the point where the Rams are expected to be ready for their opener.

The Rams have never beaten the Knights although they have come close. Tonight's game is considered a tossup by many and the Ram rosters contend this is their time to turn the trick.

A capacity crowd is expected to be on hand tonight when the opening kickoff takes place at 8 p.m. sharp, with the Pleasant Hill field the scene of action.

MEANWHILE, graduation and players transferring have given the Las Lomas Knights a big rebuilding job for the fast approaching first game of the 1960 season.

Eighty-free turned out for varsity and junior varsity football along with 32 on the frosh squad.

The varsity roster has been trimmed down to 30 from which finds but six lettermen on hand.

THE KNIGHTS have a pair of lettermen ends in Pete Havens and Dick Couch, while Eric Hinge earned his monogram as a punting specialist.

Bob Stephenson lettered but lost much experience due to an early season injury while Jim Murphy won his award as a halfback.

Four standouts were lost via the transfer route and this has given head coach Duane Louis an added problem as far as experienced players go.

Doug Martin a standout quarterback, returned to Oklahoma, Phil Rutschow, a standout guard, headed for West Virginia, while tackle Noel Montleone and quarterback Vince Cotolica both moved to Fresno.

Orinda Club Tell Ladies Day Score

The Orinda Country Club has announced the results of the ladies day medal play, held last Thursday.

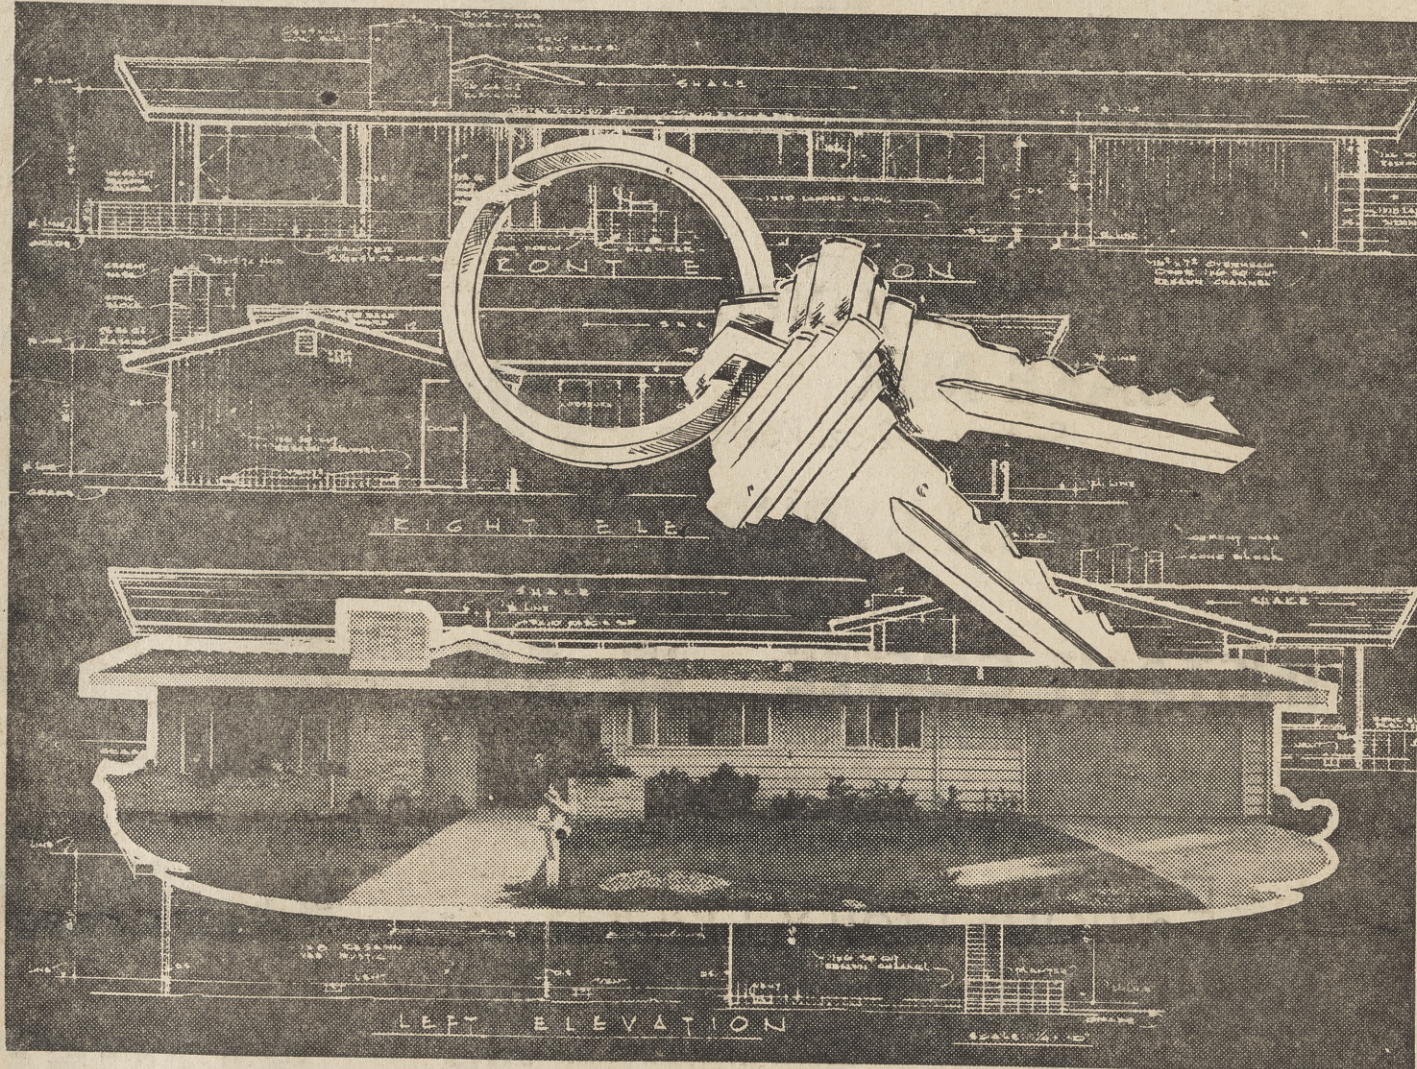

Class A: Mrs. P. E. Patch, 76-5-71; Mrs. R. F. Hopkins, 89-18-71; Mrs. R. O. Moe, 87-15-72.

Class B: Mrs. H. L. Brooks, 94-24-70; Mrs. N. J. Partch, 95-25-73; Mrs. R. D. Graffis, 89-26-73.

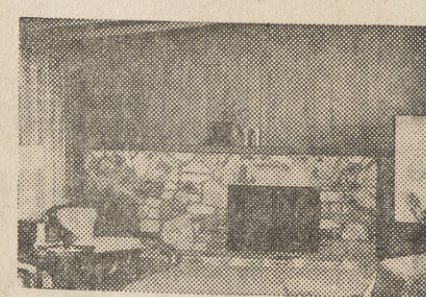

Class C: Mrs. A. D. Korkin, 107-29-78; Mrs. J. M. Walker, 115-36-79; Mrs. L. W. Beaver, 112-32-80.

PLANT LAWNS IN FALL

If one month could be singled out as the favorite lawn-planting month in California, it would probably be September. Members of the California Association of Nurserymen suggest there is good reason for this since the winter rains insure that the lawn gets a good start in life. Check with your nurseryman to be sure you get the right seed mix for the traffic your lawn will have to tolerate.

In this issue of Sun Sports is an article on the return of the local area's Olympic swimmers, with a salute to them for a job well done.

Carolyn Schuler, the two-time gold medal winner and Donna deVarona, the 13-year-old miss who swam in the relay trials, returned home last week-end.

George Harrison, a gold medal winner in the relay, returns soon after a stopover in New York.

A welcome home dinner is set for next month to honor the trio. To many it may seem that it's a lot of glory and all fun with the excitement of trips and the winning of honors and world recognition.

All of this is true, but to a limited extent. The part that most don't see is all of the hours on end of practice and hard work that go into achieving the end.

Top performers just don't happen. It's a lot of work which entails a lot of sacrifice. The sacrifices come not only on the participants but on their parents as well. The parents are often overlooked and they, along with those who did the swimming, should receive special recognition.

All of them have given the all important encouragement, have furnished transportation, have given up a good part of their own lives and furnished the ever needed coin of the realm, and all at a sacrifice to themselves.

The local area can well be proud of the trio of Olympic performers who made world headlines with their performance and I, as one of many, can say, it couldn't happen to three nicer people.

In addition, I salute the parents who made it all possible with their unselfish aid and encouragement.

Getting around to football—it's the opening date of game play for many preps today, with the college front swinging into action tonight and tomorrow.

It's the time when coaches always wish they had JUST ANOTHER DAY for practice to polish up the attack and firm up the defense. Every one worries about the gaps to be filled and it will happen as it always does that a new crop of performers will rise to the front.

Many are content to play second string if they feel that someone is up in front of them in the starting lineup, and then when the opportunity arises for them to be number one themselves they arise and play up to it—often better than the first stringer they replace.

Ability is important but all important is the factor of attitude. Desire or lack of it is what makes or breaks a team. The biggest job of a coach is to instill desire in his squad.

One of the most capable along this line as well as one of the best football coaches I have ever associated with, is George DeKlotz, the athletic director of Las Lomas.

He confines himself to athletic director duties, along with a bit of golf coaching in the spring.

He has stepped out of the football picture this year and will George has had a long and most successful athletic career as a coach on the prep and college level. He has a fine athletic background of his own and it reflected in his well drilled teams, and particularly in the win column which was far ahead of the loss column.

Wolves Play At Livermore

San Ramon had its smallest turnout in years when only 50 turned up for varsity and junior varsity play, and among them were but three lettermen.

New headman Coach Fred "Red" Houston found quarterback Kent Casey Evans, halfback Bill Bechtel and tackle Glenn Miller representing the lone returning letter winners.

COACH HOUSTON, a Fresno State College grad, came to San Ramon from Los Banos High where he turned out some highly successful eleveners.

A new system and but three veterans, plus a small turnout presents real problems, appeared in part by the largest frosh turnout ever with more than 70 candidates on hand.

The building problem looks bright for the future but is little consolation for the present as the Wolves go on review tonight when they play under the Livermore High lights.

RUMOR has it that San Ramon plans a wide open game with Casey Evans doing a lot of pigskin tossing from his quarterback spot.

The Wolves are running from a winged "T" and making full use of split ends and flanker backs to open the defense up.

Olde Professor Is Back With Atomic Crystal Ball

Olde Soss Oppe is coming out of hibernation once again to give you his peerless picks.

The Prof is using a brand new crystal ball developed with a new atomic fission material, which will send you to the moon with its crystal clear predictions.

First off, there will be crisp clear predictions that will hit a new high—at least that's what it said with the printed instructions. It may take a week or two to get things in focus, but here goes:

In the local prep circles, it's the Livermore Cowboys in the Eastbay League, tab Piedmont in the Foothill League and Pittsburg in the Contra Costa Division of the D.V.A.L. as champs of their respective circuits.

Getting down to the practice games, and this is where the team is often made or broken as far as later league play is concerned, tab Clayton Valley to defeat Miramonte this afternoon, 20-6. The Clayton Valley Eagles lost heavily by graduation, but athletic enthusiasm is high and playing at home they will grab their initial win of the 1960 season.

San Ramon travels to and loses to Livermore. New coach, new system and scant depth create too many problems for the Danville eleven. The score, Livermore 27, San Ramon 0.

Locally the big one is Las Lomas at Pleasant Hill. Pleasant Hill has never beaten the Knights and while both teams have lost heavily by graduation, new players will come to the front in this one. It's the Knights in a close one, 13-12.

Moving into the college circles, take Cal over Tulare, 14-13. New head man Marvin Levy has done a fine job with the material on hand and the club will make few mistakes for an early game.

The organization is tops and his "plays" show imagination as well as conforming to the material on hand.

Stanford opens tomorrow night at Spokane as they drop a 20-14 decision to Washington State. Playing at home they could win but tackling the opposition in the north land is too much for the Red Shirts.

U.S.C., the giant of the southland, meets Oregon State tonight and this could be the start on the road to a national championship for the U.S.C. crew. The winner: U.S.C. 24-0.

Bonus pick—Chattanooga to beat whomever they play.

Matadors Visit Eagles For Afternoon Practice

The Miramonte Matadors have been working overtime as head coach Bob Brooks and assistant Don Phillips have gone all out in order to get ready for the practice opener this afternoon with the Clayton Valley Eagles.

The game is set for a 3:30 p.m. kickoff with Clayton Valley High the scene of action.

THE EAGLES were on their own as a varsity team for the first team last year and came up with an outstanding club.

They started with a three-year school and as a result had all hands on deck last season, but this year along with others graduation depleted their ranks and it remains to be seen how well they can bounce back.

Miramonte won their one and only varsity game last season when they toppled San Ramon in a league game.

COACH Brooks has opened up his offense and it appears that he will make full use of veteran quarterback Randy Thaman who won over the top spot as a sophomore.

The Matadors presented a good passing attack last year and could develop a real aerial threat with Thaman doing the tossing.

Mrs. A. Boscacci Wins Orinda Golf

The scores from the Orinda Country Club ladies' invitational event held recently are as follows:

Low Gross—Mrs. Arnold Boscacci, 87.

Class A: Mrs. James Sharp, 89-14-75; Mrs. Joseph Small, 88-11-77; Mrs. George Shank, 92-15-77; Mrs. Tom Carlson, 93-16-77; Mrs. Philip Kane, 89-11-78; Mrs. C. L. Rank, 94-16-78.

CLASS B: Mrs. E. B. Payne, 95-19-78; Mrs. William Baughman, 97-19-78; Mrs. Miller Freeman, 96-17-79; Mrs. William Calhoun, 98-19-79; Mrs. R. F. Hopkins, 97-17-80.

Class C: Mrs. Neil Taylor, 94-22-72; Mrs. Allen Ayres, 96-23-73; Mrs. S. J. Myers, 97-22-75; Mrs. C. L. Putnam, 98-21-77; Mrs. Terry Haws, 100-23-77; Mrs. H. R. Merriam, 100-23-77.

Welcome Home, Carolyn, Donna!

The central county's two Olympic swimmers who returned last week from the Rome Games have different ideas about their futures in sport but were agreed on one thing—they were glad to get home.

Carolyn Schuler, 17-year-old double gold medal butterfly swimmer from Orinda, and 13-year-old Donna deVarona of Lafayette returned via American Airlines jet last Thursday night in advance of most of the other United States Olympians.

CAROLYN'S MOTHER, Mrs. Charles Schuler, said this week that George Haines of Santa Clara, American swimmer and coach, sent the girls home early because of transportation space difficulties for the team.

The Orinda miss, a June graduate of Miramonte High School, plans to rest for several months and begin college studies at an unknown location sometime after the first of the year.

Carolyn set a world's record in the 100-meter women's butterfly final at Rome and then bounced back three days later to lead the American women's 400-meter medley relay team to victory.

SHE TOLD reporters upon her arrival last week that she didn't intend to compete again, but after gaining a little home cooking and some rest she was uncertain this week as to her future.

On the other hand, Donna told her parents she felt she didn't really deserve a gold medal this year—she swam in the preliminary heats but not in the finals. As a result, Donna reported she plans to improve her swimming and will attempt to compete in the 1964 Games at Tokyo in order to win her own gold medal.

NO WORD has been heard from George Harrison, the third area resident who swam for the U.S. team in Rome. It is believed he stopped over in New York after winning a gold medal for his part in the men's 800-meter freestyle relay victory.

The three young people will be honored at a testimonial dinner at the Red Mill October 18. The dinner is being sponsored by the Lafayette and Orinda chambers of commerce and The Sun, and will feature sports personalities from the Bay Area.

Diablo Medal Pl Scores Announce

Golf scores of the Diablo women's group medal play held last Thursday are as follows:

Class A: Mesdames D. E. Rice 96-21-75; R. C. Bowman 90-14-76; C. S. Laumeister 96-20-76; Frank Ivaldi 100-23-77.

Class B: Mesdames H. B. Conner 101-24-77; F. G. Schmitt 102-24-78; Kenneth Brown 106-28-78; William Helfrich 105-26-79.

A NEW STYLE of earring? Well, not really. It's just that Carolyn Schuler (right), Orinda's double Olympic gold medal swimmer, chooses this method for showing her friend, Sandy Poulson, the two top awards she won for the United States in Rome. Carolyn, who returned to the Bay Area last Thursday, stayed with Sandy's parents until her own mother and father, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Schuler, returned from Europe early Monday morning.

Local Residents Play Big Parts In Grid Festival

The big events of the 15th annual National Football Festival, the Parade of Lights and the Coronation Ball, will take place tonight and tomorrow night respectively.

The parade will be along a circular route on Shattuck Avenue in Berkeley and the ball at the Hotel Claremont. Glen Drummond of 1320 Juanita Drive, Walnut Creek, is general chairman of the festival.

ASUC coordinator is Bill Ausfahl, 155 Estates Drive, Danville, and Bob Van Voorhis, 1243 Chatton Court, Lafayette, is ways and means chairman.

Hostess queen Lynn Henrietta of US will take part in the parade and ball. Other area groups participating in the parade will be: The Pleasant Hill Cycling Club, Danville Junior Horsemen; and the Walnut Creek Cooties and Cooties comic group.

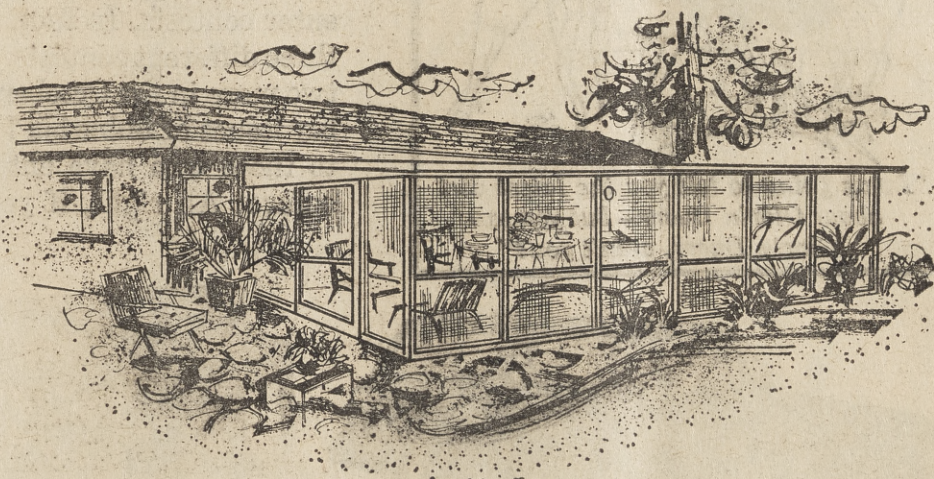

LAFAYETTE'S OWN Olympic swimmer, 13-year-old Donna deVarona, poses for the local cameraman shortly after her return from Rome last Thursday night. Donna was the youngest member of the United States team which competed in the Italian capitol, and was picked to swim the first leg of the preliminary heat for the women's 400-meter freestyle relay team.

Sun Home and Garden

Your Garden

Practice Makes Perfect For Would-Be Gardeners

If further proof is needed that "practice makes perfect" we suggest you put the theory to a test in your garden. Few fields of endeavor yield such rewarding results.

We don't suggest that every man is a potential Luther Burbank, but we do contend that any man who earnestly desires such a goal can reach it.

The California Association of Nurserymen recently said something to the effect that few people are born with green thumbs. They get that way from poking around in the garden.

If you doubt it, choose a test plot in your own garden and see what you can do with it. You might start with a bed that has yielded only meager results in previous years. Work it to a depth that surpasses all your previous efforts—12 to 18 inches is not an unreasonable goal.

Then load it with steer manure and one of the commercial soil conditioners. Whatever you plant is sure to thrive. Try winter annuals such as Calendulas or plant some perennials with spring bloom in mind.

OR YOU might start with the lawn. The trick here is to improve the soil once again and this is best done with manure, peat moss and other humus building elements. They are easily worked in with a rented rotary tiller. Lawns can't miss in a good seed bed and it doesn't take a green thumb to work a seedbed into shape.

There are a thousand little tricks which the gardener picks up after a few hit and miss years at the start. He learns that certain plants are kept bushy and made to bloom more with occasional pinching back. He learns that too much water can often do a potted plant as much harm as too little water. He learns that feeding late summer followed by plenty of water can make roses bloom well into fall.

Most of all, he learns the satisfaction to be derived from a garden which he controls rather than vice versa.

Trees Play an Important Role

It's hard to imagine a garden without trees. In fact, it's impossible. Trees lend substance to a landscape as no smaller shrubs and plants can do. They shade and soothe us when the sun is high; they frame views of sky and terrain with the intricate patterns of their boughs. How dull the garden would be without them!

In an age of ever-shrinking space, moreover, trees play a new and important role. They break the monotony of sameness which we see in so many new developments. Their individuality is needed.

YET, if the need for trees is greater than ever, our choice of them is narrower. Space is a limiting factor and the gardener is often happier with small trees or large shrubs that can be trained as trees. And often in small places, he is happier with a deciduous tree, since evergreens block his light in winter.

There is room for both evergreen and deciduous trees, even in small gardens. However, for the sake of interest and variety, California Association of Nurserymen members favor planting both.

Along the boundary, you will usually want evergreen material

since it screens you from the world and provides privacy on a year-round basis. Try Victorian box, a shrub that can be trained as a good small tree, along the rear fence. Its blossoms bear heavenly fragrance in spring and often again in summer. Train it to a trunk that branches out at fence top. Other evergreens for fence boundary include pineapple guava, olive, Carolina or Catalina cherry and Grecian laurel.

WITHIN a small garden, try the deciduous trees—a flowering Japanese cherry, dogwood, birch or a maidenhair tree. The olive, again, is one of the best evergreens for small spaces—graceful and attractive in its gray coat the year around.

If your space is unlimited, so is your choice.

Film Seen by Supervisors

The Contra Costa Supervisors on Tuesday previewed the flood fight film "When Water Is the Enemy."

It was produced in Contra Costa County by the Raphael S. Wolff Studios of Hollywood.

It was filmed in color in Pleasant Hill, Martinez, Walnut Creek and Concord, with county residents as "actors." It portrays various methods by which a person or business can protect their property against flood waters.

The Contra Costa County Flood Fight Bulletin published last year was followed closely, under the direct supervision of the County Disaster Office.

Nurserymen To Convene At Yosemite

For the past 49 years, members of the California Association of Nurserymen have been getting together for an annual statewide convention. This year the association is celebrating the Golden Anniversary of the gathering during the meeting at Yosemite National Park Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Nationally known speakers will be featured. Heading the list is Vice President Nixon, although it is not definite that his heavy campaign schedule will permit his appearing.

SLATED to give his views to the convention is former Congressman Patrick Hillings, an outstanding public speaker and news commentator as well as an expert on both national and international affairs. Most recently, Hillings has acted as a consultant for the Ford Motor Company in the western United States.

William E. Warne, the new director of the Department of Agriculture, will be making his first appearance before the nurserymen. Warne's message should prove enlightening in view of the prominence of the farm question in the presidential election.

AS IT has in past conventions, the C.A.N. plans a full schedule of events designed to acquaint those at the convention with the latest developments and trends in their specialized field.

"The bringing together of people in our business has proved of great value in sharing and understanding the problems facing our industry," said Elmer Merz, executive secretary of the C.A.N. "We want to extend a cordial invitation not only to all members, but to non-members as well to join with us in Yosemite," he added.

Advance reservations indicate a large turnout representing every part of the state.

Transit District For Explanation

A new speaker's program has been started by the five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District in conjunction with the submittal to public officials of tentative physical plans for a Bay Area rapid transit system.

General Manager John M. Pierce said "The tentative physical plans have been mailed to every city councilman and county supervisor in the Bay Area for study and recommendation."

"These plans should be of direct interest to every citizen who lives or works in the Bay Area."

Pierce said the district can make available speakers to explain the rapid transit plans at meetings of civic, fraternal, business and other types of groups and organizations.

Requests for speakers should be addressed to district headquarters, 628 Flood Building, San Francisco 2.

Ivy Is Used Many Ways

There are plants in every garden which deserve more than a small share of thanks from the gardener. Trouble is, we take most of them for granted and don't really stop to think just what it would be like without them.

The ivy family is one of these. There's nothing flashy about it. Its members don't flower enchantingly and you won't find an ever-increasing array of new and better varieties. But you will always find a hundred-and-one ways to use it, and that's enough for most of us.

Just offhand, we can name some six or eight favorite uses for ivy in the garden: Ivy as a ground cover on banks or as a lawn substitute; ivy growing on the wall of a house, up a tree trunk or on a power pole; ivy hanging from a basket overhead, rambling over a fence or climbing a garden wall. How many other uses can you name?

Members of the California Association of Nurserymen offer ivy in three or four different forms; but any way you look at it, there's no mistaking—it's ivy. Probably the most commonly found is English ivy, a deep green mass of glossy leaves. Left to its own as a ground cover, it will form a mat about one foot thick. The leaves are usually two to three inches across, but four inches is not uncommon.

Algerian ivy is very similar, except the leaves are larger and less dense and very glossy. The variegated form most commonly seen derives from this Algerian side of the family.

Some Bulbs For Planting Now

September is a month of in-decision for the bulb gardener. He is eager to start planting for spring, and he knows early fall is the time. But such weather. It often seems more like summer in September than it does like fall.

What the gardener forgets is that California goes by the calendar. Fall may sneak in early through much of the nation this month; but here it waits until summer has gone . . . in fact, usually. The thermometer often reaches its peak this time of year, as summer puts up one last struggle before succumbing to the inevitable.

GIVEN such circumstances, should a gardener plant bulbs now or later? The answer is both now and later.

Members of the California Association of Nurserymen suggest holding off until September's hottest days have surely passed with such bulbs as Daffodils, Tulips and Hyacinths.

Dutch Iris, on the other hand, seem less affected by early planting and such African natives as Freesia, Ixia and Sparaxis are so much the better for it.

FREESIAS are far and away the most widely planted of these three. Mass them in drifts in a border where they can naturalize in future years. There is nothing that fills your early spring garden with more perfume than Freesias. And a single bunch of them will fill your house, too.

Drivers Urged To Be Careful

Street crossings in residential areas can sometimes be more dangerous for school children than busier intersections where traffic is directed by school safety patrols or police officers, Duane J. Holiday, executive director of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, said.

Holiday appealed to parents and motorists to redouble their "safety consciousness" now that children are returning to school.

Registration Drive Termed 'Successful'

Committees of the Walnut Creek Young Republicans have completed a "highly successful" registration drive in the Walnut Creek area.

Under the direction of Campaign Co-chairman Roy Westran and Bill Holzwarth they registered over 400 new voters in 16 Walnut Creek precincts which in previous years have had the poorest Republican voter turnout.

The registration was accomplished by a door to door canvass which extended over a five week period.

Group captains held training meetings for the team captains and precinct workers. "Strategy" was developed by Westran and Holzwarth with the cooperation of Madeline MacLaughlin of Women's State Republican Committee and 77 precinct workers in the committee.

Westran said, "Every effort was made to locate and register voters — both Republican and Democrat."

"During the registration period precinct workers were able to stimulate interest in the elections and received many offers of assistance for work during the coming campaign."

Smelt get their name from an old Anglo-Saxon word "smoelt," which meant "smooth" or "shining," reports the National Automobile Club.

Ambassadors Club Readies 'Little Iodine' Dragster

"Little Iodine," a gasoline-powered Chevrolet engine dragster, is currently making records on Bay Area drag strips.

Raced by the Ambassadors of Orinda, the funds for the machine were earned by dues, poker runs and car wash projects.

A speed of 152 miles per hour was turned on Fremont Drag Strip recently, and the young racers hope to repeat the record on a single run, to go on to the National 1320 records.

ABOUT 18 members belong to the Ambassadors of Orinda, ranging in age from 16 to 25. Club members race a variety of cars including stock models and three dragsters, a competition roadster and a competition sedan.

"Little Iodine" is driven by past president Tom "Featherfoot" Trefethen, Lafayette. Members meet each Tuesday and will gather nightly, to work on keeping the dragster in top condition.

According to Gary Sutton, vice president, of Piedmont, the chassis for the speedster was designed and built by Dick Williams, Oakland, and is said by Fremont Drag Strip safety officials to be the "safest possible" racer.

The partnership between Williams and the Ambassadors was formed to enable the club to have a chassis to mount a 274-inch Chevy engine with a GMC blower and gives Williams' "Little Iodine" a very good chance at winning a coveted National 1320 record.

STARTING WITH the 1955 engine, which cost $50, the project required many hours of work before it could be tried out on a track. Machine work and balancing was done by Vulcan Grinding.

Following each Sunday "Little Iodine" races, Ambassador members pull and check the engine to maintain it in top condition for the next competition.

While Tom is currently the only driver of the dragster, all members will have an opportunity to pilot the speedster when members feel it has reached full potential and can rest on its laurels.

An indication of the confidence club members had in their handiwork was the installation of a parachute as a braking aid; a requirement at Fremont Drag Strip for all machines capable of speeds over 140 mph.

CHASSIS BUILDER Williams says that the young racers can take the dragster up to 180-plus, since the frame is constructed to stand up to any speed.

Gary admitted that the Ambassadors hope to hit 150 mph with no modifications. When they reach that mark, then they will work on obtaining a still higher speed.

Since drag races are all from a standing start, on the timed quarter-mile, the 150 mph mark is extremely fast for a gasoline powered vehicle.

Dave Pinsley, club president, said members had hoped to earn enough prize money to travel to the National Drag Races in Detroit this month, but probably won't make it this year. Indications are that the dragster from Orinda could be a strong contender, however.

Dirty windshields can deal out death, warns the National Automobile Club. Keep yours clean, and drive with care.

Vision Screening Program Finance Will Be Shifted

Eighteen school districts which received vision screening services from the county superintendent's office last year will finance their own in 1960-61.

Air Reservists Taught by Capt. Quilici

Captain Ray A. Quilici of Concord assumed duties as instructor of the staff development class at the 9441st Air Reserve Squadron headquarters in Walnut Creek.

Quilici, who works for United States Steel in Pittsburgh has been a member of the squadron for seven years and is a veteran of World War II.

He replaces 1st Lt. David Hart, who accepted an instructor's position at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah.

Squadron Commander Harlan B. Copey made the appointment. The squadron this week welcomed four new members in the local headquarters.

They are Major Allen F. Thor of Orinda, Captains Johnson C. Hoag of Pleasant Hill, Glenn C. Warden of Lafayette and Thomas L. Hawkins of Crockett.

All are transferred from other classes in the area and Thor and Hoag are both former members of the squadron.

Teachers' Tea Planned by WC Capwells

Capwell's Walnut Creek will present a Teachers' Tea in conjunction with McCall's Magazine, Monday.

The program for local home economics teachers will begin at 7:15 p.m. in the training rooms on the second floor.

Theodora Faiola, the McCall's representative for the area, will serve as commentator and will preview for the teachers some of the recent fashion developments along school lines as interpreted by McCall's.

During the evening Mrs. Faiola will also include plans and information for the teachers concerning the joint Capwell-McCall Spring Fashion Show, which has become an annual event with local area schools.

Students selected from sewing classes will have an opportunity to participate in this program by modeling apparel they have fashioned themselves with the assistance of their own sewing instructors, McCall's, and Capwell's.

of the county superintendent's office — helping find new and improved ways of doing things and introducing them to the local school district," he said.

MCT, as the test is known, was cooperatively developed by the Contra Costa County School and Health Departments and optometrists and ophthalmologists of Stanford and the University of California.

All but six districts enrolling elementary age children have elected to use MCT again. By state law school districts are required to test the vision of school children before they leave the primary grades, in compliance with which the new test has proved more accurate than older methods—approximately 89 per cent accurate as compared with 30 per cent.

IT ALSO frees the classroom teacher of the task of vision screening, now performed by a corps of eye doctors, said Dr. Harold Weatherbe, administrative assistant on the county superintendent's staff and coordinator of the vision screening.

Doctors performing the eye screening in 1960-61 will be Henry W. Mohr of Walnut Creek and Cora Brabazon of San Francisco, in Sheldon and San Pablo; Ross S. Griffin of Concord, Orinda-Lafayette area and Pittsburg; Kenneth B. Hoh of Oakland and James Durkin of San Leandro, San Ramon Valley, Pinole-Crockett area and Martinez area; and Raymond Kan of Oakland and S. L. Johnson of Berkeley, Mt. Diablo area.

Park Study Committee Suggested

The Walnut Creek City Council tonight will be asked to authorize the creation of a 12-member Park and Recreation Study Committee, which has been recommended by the new Park and Recreation Commission.

The study committee will meet probably twice a week, reviewing the previous plans for parks and facilities, and to appraise and evaluate the current park and recreation facilities. They coordinate their activities with the Planning Commission, also department heads, county and district school administrators and the county park director.

Members will also recommend what expenditures will be necessary to implement the program, and such financing recommendations will become part of City Manager Laverne Kimball's capital improvement program for the entire city.

The Park and Recreation Commission recently approved locating the recreation staff in the American Red Cross building at 1395 Civic Drive, when the building is vacated.

A renovation of the main baseball diamond near the Recreation Building is also planned.

Drama School To Start Fall Term

The Dramatists School for young people will begin classes for the fall session September 24, it was announced this week by the school's directors, Alice Swenning and Patricia Winkworth.

Classes in beginning and advanced drama will be held at the Lafayette Town Hall, Moraga and School Streets, Lafayette, every Saturday through December 3.

Creative dramatics will be offered for children ages seven through 10 between 10 and 11 a.m.; beginning drama, ages 11 through 13, between 11 a.m. and noon; beginning drama, ages 14 through 17, from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.; advanced drama for young people with sufficient previous training to qualify will be held from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

THE ADVANCED group will have a very limited enrollment, and only children of exceptional talent and aptitude will be admitted.

Registration for the fall session will take place at the Town Hall tomorrow between 10 a.m. and noon. Those unable to register at that time may contact Mrs. Wink-worth, CL 4-5517, or Mrs. Swenning, LA 5-9722.

The school has just finished a successful summer program during which the senior group went "on location" to make a short sound movie. An amusing satire on every horror film since Dracula first smirked his way across the silver screen, the film is the creation of young Boyd Hunter.

Writer-director-photographer Hunter is a resident of Lafayette and a senior at Alacanes High School. This young entrepreneur has been active in the drama school for the past year, as well as assisting both on stage and off in Dramatist productions.

HIS FILM—which he calls "a production of Screen Monstrosities, Inc."—was sponsored by the drama school and supervised by its two directors. Appearing in it are teen-agers from the Orinda-Lafayette-Walnut Creek area. It will have its "premiere" at the Dramatist meeting October 10.

Also of interest to teen-agers is the newly formed Junior Dramatists. Young people of junior high and high school age are welcome to join. The next meeting is scheduled for September 26, with regular meetings following on the fourth Monday of every month.

Diablo Valley Male Students Hold Smoker

The Associated Men Students of Diablo Valley College began this semester's program with a splash of excitement, as they presented their annual smoker for all men students Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Activity Building.

Entertainment included a guest speaker and sport films brought to the college through the courtesy of the Union Oil Co. Bill Thompson, the comedian, will be the guest speaker. He is best known from coast to coast as "Mr. Wimple," the friend of Fibber McGee and Molly.

Thursday's evening program also included an introduction of the Viking football squad by Sam DeVite, plus cigarette girls, free smokes and refreshments.

Hospitals, Rest Homes Face New Restrictions

The Walnut Creek Planning Commission will soon consider an amendment to the Municipal Code which will likely take hospitals and rest homes out of the single family residential zone, perhaps depositing them in multiple-residential zones.

The hearings follow dissatisfaction by city councilmen with the intrusion of rest homes into single family areas. They have been sympathetic with complaining homeowners.

A possible result may be the need for rezoning the John Muir Hospital site, perhaps as conditional development plan, a pattern for future hospitals.

Although Senator Clair Engle joined in efforts of Senator Tom Kuchel to get an early allocation of $90,000 for initial engineering studies on the $24,000,000 Walnut Creek Flood Control project, the request was turned down Tuesday in the House Appropriations Committee.

A telegram from Representative John F. Baldwin to County Administrator J. P. McBrien explained that the committee had turned down all unbudgeted items in approving monies for the Second Supplemental Appropriations Bill.

Auxiliary Board Plans Activities

The Woman's Auxiliary of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, San Francisco section, held its first board meeting recently under the leadership of O. R. Petebone.

Those attending the meeting at the Castlewood Country Club were Mesdames John D. Kemper, vice chairman, Orinda; J. Allan Greenland, recording secretary, Menlo Park; F. F. Mautz, corresponding secretary, Berkeley; Herbert P. Vail, treasurer, Burlingame; R. N. Haynie, past chairman, Mountain View; M. E. McVey, membership chairman, Los Gatos; I. M. White, hospitality, Berkeley; J. P. van Overveen, publicity, Lafayette; and R. E. Grady, transportation, Hillsborough.

Mrs. Kemper presented the proposed program for the year, which will begin October 4 with a membership tea at Mrs. R. E. Grady's home in Hillsborough. A visit to the World Trade Club in San Francisco, November 1, Christmas dance December 9 at the Peninsula Country Club, January meeting in San Francisco at the Iron Horse, February will be fund raising month for scholarships, a tour through the Oakland Tribune plant is planned for March, and a fashion show in April at the Claremont Hotel.

National Recognition To Alamano

Mel Alamano, founding president of the Walnut Creek Youth Athletic Association, has been awarded a special certificate from the National Recreation Association.

The certificate recognizes Alamano's work in organizing the association, and in interesting area fathers in the program which now includes more than 600 boys each year.

The Association now includes 350 member-fathers. They have obtained donations of materials and labor from area industries and individuals.

A new baseball diamond was built at a cost of $1200, and is now valued at $30,000.

Sets Date for Transit Study

September 29 at 10 a.m. has been set as the date for a study session of the $926 million regional rapid transit system plan proposed by the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District directors.

Contra Costa County board of supervisors, meeting in Martinez last week, when naming the date stated that Contra Costa's three members of the rapid transit board will be asked to attend the session. It will be held in the supervisors' chambers and will be open to the public.

Chairman Mel F. Nielsen said all three rapid transit directors from Contra Costa should be at the session to enable them to vote on the matter "unanimously." The county's rapid transit directors are Harry L. Morrison Jr., H. L. Cummings and Marvin Joseph.

NIELSEN criticized the rapid transit engineers favoring the route along the old Sacramento Northern Railroad instead of near the Diablo Freeway.

The county board of supervisors has been asked by the rapid transit directors to submit recommendations concerning the Contra Costa phase of the five county network not later than Dec

WATER STILL NEEDED

Water is still a watchword in September—the month in which summer's hottest weather often takes us by surprise. Guard against the tendency to relax when fall's first breath comes your way. Rain won't follow in any amount to speak of until summer's drought has long overstayd its season.

Jewish Center Religion Classes

As a result of the increased numbers of those attending the religious school, Al Koch, religious school chairman, announced that the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center has added additional classes to be held on Saturday mornings so as to accommodate the overflow.

While the Sunday classes include pre-kindergarten through the 10th grade, the Saturday session will have classes from the first through the fourth grade as well as grade seven.

The increased enrollment has necessitated additions to the teaching staff as well as the administrative personnel. Assisting Rabbi David Robins, Koch stated, Fred Marcus, president of the Jewish Educational Council of the East Bay, has been retained as principal. Hanan Altschuler, language specialist from Israel, will serve as Hebrew instructor.

Pre-registration is being conducted now. Classes will begin tomorrow at 10 a.m. and Sunday at the same time. For further information call the Center office at AT 3-8575.

Handicapped Kids Invited

Handicapped children and adults of Contra Costa County and their families have been invited to a "Day at Lake Berryessa" in Napa County, tomorrow.

Frances Healey of Richmond, new president of the Contra Costa County Easter Seal Society, and William Sharkey III of Martinez, president of the Contra Costa Rotary Club Council, are coordinators.

Fisher Wins Toastmaster Competition

"Mind Over Destiny" was the title of Ralph Fisher's winning speech at last week's meeting of the Diablo Toastmaster's Club. He presented some stimulating thoughts on how to tap the powers of the subconscious mind.

Bert Thyssel won the Table Topics trophy for his humorous prediction on the success of the Giants (New York Football club), and Josh Brady was voted the outstanding evaluator.

Keith Hudson presided over the meeting in place of vacationing club president Paul Tufft.

Assisting were John Davey in charge of table topics, and Pete Schoenthaler, toastmaster.

The Diablo Toastmasters Club meets every Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at the Nut Bowl Restaurant, Pleasant Hill.

The A,B,C's Of Parking Meters Told

The A, B, C's of using parking meters were outlined recently by Walnut Creek Police Chief Leigh Brilliant, who said he hopes they will help reduce the number of parking violations.

He quoted section 3559.2 of the municipal code, and added "five points to remember."

They are as follows:

1. PARK your vehicle correctly.

Parking spaces are marked on the street to allow equal parking space. Look to see whether or not you are parked correctly. When parking parallel, make sure the wheels are no more than 18 inches from the curb.

2. Select the correct parking meter.

When parking parallel use the meter at the front end of your vehicle; for diagonal parking, use the meter on the left, or driver's, side. The correct meter is inside the marked parking space.

3. READ the instructions posted on the parking meter. Before inserting coins, read the instructions posted on the face of the meter. Make sure you insert the size coin marked on the coin slot.

Each slot is marked for the size or combination of sizes which can be used. When allowing a child to operate the meter, make sure it is done correctly.

4. Follow operating instructions use coins as shown and turn handle until it stops. It is not necessary to turn the handle quickly. Release the handle and allow it to return to starting position.

5. AFTER putting the parking meter in operation check the time indicated by flag, check to see violation flags are clear, and check time on your watch.

After putting the parking meter into operation, note the time indicated by the pointer and see that both red violation flags are down. Put enough time on the meter to complete your errands.

GOOD TIME TO SHOP

September is a good month to shop at nurseries for berried shrubs — especially the Fire-thorns and the later redberried varieties are used extensively in California for fall color. And buying them in full berry at C. A. N. nurseries insures that you will get the berry color and size that you want.

Taxpayer's Suit Filed

Directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District last Thursday night authorized payment of $406.38 to the Mosquito Abatement District for drainage work made necessary by the outfall sewer line.

The district will make the payment a part of their suit against the Miller Company, former contractor on the line alleged to be responsible for the work.

DISTRICT counsel John Bohn said a n o t h e r taxpayer's suit against the district has been filed by Hobbs Shore, 400 Colorado Court, Lafayette.

The suit asked for an injunction to stop construction of the outfall line, claiming the job was given to the McGuire and Hester Construction Company without going to bids.

This is the second suit filed by Shore and Bohn said such action is "completely irresponsible and a waste of the taxpayers' money."

The first injunction was "washed out," Bohn said.

He recommended a report be made to the State Bar Association with a complaint. James Cox is the attorney of record, Bohn said.

DIRECTORS authorized Bohn to take discretionary action.

Also authorized was annexation to the district of Douglas Oil Company property at 1515 Danville Highway.

A canvass of ballots for Tuesday's election of new board members will be made September 21, and the next meeting of the board will be September 22.

Country Suit Coming Back

The country suit is coming back — and it is coming back strong! In the old days, about 30 years ago, before sports jackets reached their present eminence, the country suit—or the sports suit, as it was sometimes called—ruled the more casual roost.

Now, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear, there is again a definite need for suits that are dressier than the jacket and slacks outfit but less formal than a business suit.

As most men know, there are times when a business suit is just too dressy for the occasion and a tweed jacket and slacks just too sporty. This is the spot for that good looking new sports suit.

WHAT IS a sports suit or country suit? It can be many things. Most of the new country suits consist of a jacket, vest and trousers.

In most instances, the coat and trousers match and so does the vest on one side. The vest can frequently be worn on the reverse side, featuring a contrasting color or fabric or even matching the lining of the jacket.

In other instances, the jacket and the vest may be of matching patterned material and the trousers of the same cloth but in a solid color.

IN STILL other instances, a matching coat and trousers of tweedy character may be supplemented by a reversible vest with one side matching and the other side matching a fourth piece to the outfit—a harmonizing pair of slacks.

The combinations made possible by those four pieces can create a miniature wardrobe by themselves.

Hide-A-Bed Not Hidden,

Mrs. S. W. Bray of 3063 Putnam Boulevard, Walnut Creek, sold her hide-a-bed for $150 with the first call in reply to the want ad she placed in The Sun.

She told The Sun want ad girl: "I know I will have many more calls before the day is over. I always get excellent results with The Sun."

Mrs. W. H. Banks of 800 Mari-rosa Road, Lafayette, sold her double bed with springs and mattress to the first caller.

These are only two of the hundreds of Sun "Success stories" which result each week, due to the "5-in-1" coverage provided Sun want ads.

Your ad automatically appears in the Sun Shopping News, the free-distribution paper, on Wednesday, and in the Walnut Creek Sun, Lafayette Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun and Orinda Sun, on Friday.

CD Sirens Unpopular; 'Not My Neighborhood!'

The location of a County Civil Defense attack warning siren in the neighborhood, instead of giving a feeling of security, often results in a rash of complaints.

Will H. Perry, CD director, said: "The location is generally on public property such as a school ground or on existent County rights-of-way."

"After selecting the exact siren location, we advise the residents that we propose to locate a siren in their neighborhood, and this is when the fun starts."

"We immediately receive complaints. Many are from the same people who have requested the installation in the first place."

"They ask, Why does it have to be on the corner near my house? Why can't it be two blocks away?"

Or "They built a school right next door to me, do I have to have a siren next door also?"

or "Why do you have to put it in the middle of our subdivision?"

"Why can't it be on the other side of the hill where there are no homes?"

Or, "Why do you have to paint the thing yellow when pink lends itself to the color scheme in our neighborhood?"

Perry said, "We will be the first to admit that our yellow sirens are not the prettiest things in the world, but we feel that they are as much a necessity as power and phone poles."

Taping your car muffler now and again helps to dislodge some of the carbon from its inner walls, points out the National Automobile Club. Racing the motor will then blow out part of this carbon.
